

This document provides an overview of Money Market Funds Ex-ante Costs & Charges Disclosure for Irish residents

Introduction

The aim of this document is to provide our clients (“you”, “your”) with indicative information on the cost and charges applicable to (transactions in) financial instruments and related services, in accordance with MiFID II. The disclosure aims to explain to you the impact of various costs and charges on returns of your investments by providing examples on an illustrative basis. This document is reviewed and updated on an annual basis or when a material change occurs.

Revolut Securities Europe UAB (“RSEUAB”, “we”, “our”, “us”) provides you with the ability to buy and sell Money Market Funds (“MMFs”, “Funds”) on a non-advised (i.e. execution-only) basis via the Revolut App. We perform the investment service of “executing on behalf of clients” as defined in MiFID II, whereby we receive orders from you and enter into transactions with a Third Party (i.e. the Fund manager) on your behalf for execution and further processing. Currently, the Money Market Funds offered by us are limited to non-complex financial instruments.

(c) The Liquidity fee on redemptions will be defined ad-hoc by the Fund's board to reflect the cost to the MMF of achieving liquidity and ensure that investors who remain in the Fund are not unfairly disadvantaged when other investors redeem their units.

Table 2 - Overview of the costs, charges and applicable taxes that RSEUAB or third parties may charge in connection with the financial instrument (MMFs)²

Cost Type	Description	Specific Costs
Ongoing Costs	Relates to ongoing costs that are deducted from the value of the financial instrument during the investment in the financial instrument	(1) Exit Tax³: (a) Irish Funds are required to tax at the source of income on the payment of returns/distributions to Irish tax residents who are MMF unit holders. (b) The amount of exit tax is calculated by applying the relevant tax rate (38%) to the income earned by the client from holding units in the MMF. The amount of exit tax is deducted from the gross returns/distributions before being paid to the MMF unit holders. Please note that exit tax liabilities stemming from the returns/distributions of MMF units you hold are withheld by the Fund manager and paid directly to the Irish Revenue Commissioner on your behalf.
Transaction Costs	Relates to ongoing costs that are incurred as a result of the acquisition and disposal of the financial instrument	(2) Exit Tax³: (a) Irish Funds are required to withhold tax at the source of capital gains on the sale of MMF units by Irish tax residents. (b) The amount of exit tax is calculated by applying the relevant tax rate (38%) to the capital gain earned by the client from selling units in the MMF (i.e. on the positive difference between the buy and sell price of the MMF units). The amount of exit tax is deducted from the gross capital gains before being paid to the client. (c) The MMFs in RSEUAB offering are Low Volatility Net Asset Value Funds (LVNAV) which seek to maintain a constant unit price. As long as the NAV is maintained constant, the MMF unit price will not change and capital gains will not be earned by the client. Please note that exit tax liabilities that could stem from MMF units you sell - if the MMF units price changed - are withheld by the Fund manager and paid directly to the Irish Revenue Commissioner on your behalf.

RSEUAB does not receive any third party payments. If we ever receive any third party payment in relation to execution-only services provided to you, relevant information will be disclosed in your Ex-post Costs and Charges Report.

² One-off charges (e.g. distribution fees) and incidental costs (e.g. performance fees) are not applicable to the MMFs in RSEUAB offering.

³ You should be aware that various tax regimes may apply to your investments in Funds depending on your personal tax status and the rules and regulations in force from time to time. We don't provide tax advice and nothing in this Ex-ante Costs & Charges Disclosure should be considered as such advice, you should seek independent advice if you have any questions in this respect. Apart from the distribution of income and the derived capital gains, note that the exit tax will also be applicable to the "deemed chargeable event" which occurs on every eighth anniversary from the date of acquisition of shares in the Irish Fund and every subsequent eighth anniversary. The tax basis will be the "deemed gain" calculated by the difference between the market value of shares and the acquisition cost. The applicable exit tax will be collected by Fidelity as a tax agent.

Costs and Charges Report Illustration

This section aims to provide you with certain scenarios in order to illustrate how the costs and associated charges will impact your investment returns. Although these examples are based on actual incurred costs (or reasonable estimations of such costs) as a proxy for expected costs and charges, actual costs and charges incurred in respect of any future transaction may be different.

For simplification and ease of understanding, the simulated scenarios are based on following assumptions:

- The client does not incur in any FX fees when investing in the selected MMF, which means the client already has the required cash balance in the respective currency and amount available for investing before entering into transactions in MMFs;
- The subscription plan is being paid in EUR. In the presented scenarios for GBP and USD MMFs, the equivalent cost of the relevant subscription plan is converted into GBP and USD, with no fees applied;
- All scenarios represent a one time investment during a holding period of twelve months. During the period no top-ups or withdrawals are being made;
- The yield of the Fund doesn't fluctuate and remains constant during the whole holding period (which is not true in actual basis, as the yield changes daily);
- The Funds' unit price remains constant, hence, exit tax applies for all clients at the rate of 38% when returns/distributions are paid to the client. Normal market circumstances are considered during the whole holding period where the LVNAV MMFs do not encounter drops in maturing proportions that could lead the Fund to apply an Exit Liquidity fee.

Each Revolut customer has to choose a subscription plan - Revolut cannot be used without having a plan. Revolut offers 5 subscription plans, where each has a different monthly subscription fees and FX exchange allowance.

You can find a summary of all scenarios considered in Table 4, together with their underlying parameters in Table 3.

Table 5 - Explanation of calculations, including formulas

Value Category	Calculation Formula
Amount Invested	Assumed amount invested in each scenario as mentioned in Table 3
Expected Yield	Assumed yield in each scenario as mentioned in Table 3
Gross Yield (EUR/GBP/USD)	(Amount Invested)*(Expected Yield)
Gross Yield (%)	Expected Yield (EUR/GBP/USD) / Amount Invested
