

Revolut Trading Ltd - Ex-ante Costs and Charges Disclosure

EEA Listed Shares and EEA Fractional Shares

1. Introduction

Revolut Trading Ltd ("we", "us", "our" or "Revolut Trading") is authorised and regulated by the Financial Conduct Authority in the United Kingdom.

Revolut Trading provides a non-advised investment service in financial instruments, including whole shares ("shares") listed in the European Economic Area ("EEA") and fractions of such shares ("fractional shares") to retail clients ("investment service").

The Ex-ante Costs and Charges Disclosure ("Disclosure") is made by Revolut Trading and provides its customers (including "you" or "your") with important information about the costs and charges applicable to our investment service.

The costs and charges described in this Disclosure apply equally to a General Investment Account ("GIA") and an Individual Savings Account ("ISA") opened with Revolut Trading, hence both these account types are being referred to in this Disclosure as an "investment account" and are subject to the same fees and expenses.

Your agreement with us ("agreement") contains important information, including this Disclosure and our:

- Terms of Business Omnibus;
- Risk Disclosure;
- Best Execution Policy Disclosure;
- Complaints Handling Disclosure;
- Conflicts of Interest Policy Summary; and
- Client Assets Protection Summary.

You should read all information in the agreement carefully before you open an investment account. If you have any questions or doubts about any of the content of this Disclosure or of the remainder of the agreement, you should seek independent professional advice. We do not offer any type of legal, financial, or tax advice.

2. Cost and charges per category

Generally, our costs and charges are classified into ongoing costs and transaction costs.

2.1 Ongoing costs

These are the costs and charges applicable to your investment account in the course of your continued relationship with us.

While we do not directly charge any ongoing cost for the investment service we provide to you, we or Revolut Ltd might charge you a monthly subscription fee if you are a customer of the Trading Pro service or of any of the Revolut paid plans (i.e. Plus, Premium, Metal, and Ultra), respectively.

We do not charge you any custody fees or inactivity fees.

2.1.1 Revolut paid plan fees

Each Revolut paid plan (i.e. Plus, Premium, Metal, and Ultra) provides different benefits including specific investment service advantages in the form of a monthly allowance of commission-free transactions and discounted commission per transaction thereafter (for the case of Ultra only).

Revolut paid plan	Plan limit
Standard	One (1) commission-free transaction per month and then an applicable commission per transaction thereafter.
Plus	Three (3) commission-free transactions per month and then an applicable commission per transaction thereafter.
Premium	Five (5) commission-free transactions per month and then an applicable commission per transaction thereafter.
Metal and Ultra	Ten (10) commission-free transactions per month and then an applicable commission per transaction thereafter.

Further information about the plan fees can be found here.

2.1.2 Trading Pro fees

Revolut Trading offers to its customers access to pricing benefits and additional analytics features relating to the investment service and investment account.

The Trading Pro subscription fee is GBP 15 per month.

Further information about the Trading Pro service can be found in the Trading Pro Terms.

2.2 Transaction costs

These are the costs and charges related to the transactions performed by Revolut Trading or third parties upon your request and in connection with our investment service. There are five (5) types of transaction costs.

2.2.1 Foreign transaction (currency conversion) fees

The currency in which the order is executed is determined by the currency in which the instrument is traded on the relevant market (i.e. EUR for EEA shares in the case of this Disclosure).

To submit an order, you may need to convert the currency in your Revolut current account to the currency of the instrument you are trading in your investment account. Therefore, a foreign exchange fee may apply. This foreign exchange fee is called "Revolut exchange rate" and is set by Revolut Ltd, which provides your Revolut current account.

You can see the Revolut exchange rate in the Revolut app. Once you have converted a currency, your transaction history in the Revolut app will show the exchange rate that Revolut Ltd has used. Please note that Revolut Ltd uses the rate that applies at the time the conversion is carried out.

Likewise, foreign exchange fees will apply when transferring the sale proceeds from your investment activity in EUR to a non-EUR Revolut current account.

Currency exchanges carried out in relation to adding funds to your investment account count towards your exchange fair usage limit if you are a Standard or Plus customer, but not if you are a Premium, Metal, or Ultra customer.

2.2.2 Variable commission per transaction

Once you have passed your Revolut paid plan monthly allowance, you will need to pay a variable fee on each transaction.

- For Standard, Plus, Premium, and Metal, this variable fee will be 0.25% of the order amount.
- For Ultra and Trading Pro, this variable fee will be 0.12% of the order amount.

The variable fee will be charged in a specific asset currency, using the Revolut exchange rate at the time of receiving the order.

2.2.3 Regulatory fees

Certain regulatory fees apply to transactions in EEA-listed securities. Countries such as Spain, France, and Italy impose a Financial Transaction Tax ("FTT") on the purchase of financial instruments issued by companies incorporated in their jurisdictions. The applicable tax rates vary by country:

- France (0.3%);
- Spain (0.2%); and
- Italy (0.1%).

This tax is levied by local authorities and applies specifically to buy orders for qualifying companies. Exchange Traded Funds registered in the EU are exempt from this fee. When applicable, these fees will be charged on your sell orders and will be withheld from your sale proceeds.

3. Costs and charges illustration

In this section, we aim to provide you with illustrative examples to understand our costs and associated charges, and their impact on your investment returns.

For simplification and ease of understanding, the below scenarios are based on the following assumptions:

- The scenarios intend to represent a simplified overview of the general average customer experience in relation to Revolut paid plans and transactions per month.
- Each scenario spans for one (1) year and the buy and sell values remain the same during the holding period.

The table below summarises the four (4) most common scenarios where costs are different based on trading behaviour and Revolut paid plan. Below the table, each scenario is detailed. The scenarios are not exhaustive, and the costs could be different for other scenarios. These costs should be viewed as indicative and are no guarantee of future transaction costs. It is assumed that foreign exchange limits are only used for trading purposes and that commission limits are reset each month.
