

Complaints Handling Policy

1. Introduction

1.1. Revolut Securities Europe UAB ("we", "us", "our") is committed to provide its clients ("you", "yours") with the best possible trading experience. However we realise that sometimes something might go wrong and you might want to raise a complaint. For such cases we have specialised experts ready to review each individual case.

2. How to raise a complaint?

2.1. Should you want to raise a complaint, we recommend using the chat function in the App. However, you also have the option to submit to us this form or to email us at formalcomplaints@revolut.com.

2.2. Should you decide to mail us your complaint in paper format via the postal service, you may do so by sending us a (registered) letter to our registered office address (Revolut, Konstitucijos pr. 21B, Vilnius LT-08130, Lithuania).

2.3. Should you choose to send us an email or a letter via the postal service, please remember to include your name and your phone number and the email associated with your Revolut account - we will need those details in order to locate you in our databases and to conduct our investigations on what went wrong.

2.4. As an alternative, you can submit your complaint verbally, by contacting us via: +34 900 943 245 (your telecommunication service provider's standard rates apply).

- This channel is available exclusively for clients who are residents of Spain.
- Our complaints analysts are available on Mondays from 8:00 AM to 20:00 PM, and on other business days from 8:00 AM to 16:00 PM.

2.5. The submission and examination of complaints is free of charge.

3. What should you include in the complaint?

3.1. Besides the contact details referenced in point 2.3, in order to help you out and thoroughly review your case, we will need you to describe the issue in as much detail as possible. The information required includes:

- a timeframe on when did the issue happen;

- an explanation on what exactly the issue is;
- where relevant, the material impact to your financial standing.

3.2. We also welcome any suggestions on how you would like us to put things right.

4. Timeframes

4.1. After receiving your complaint, which includes all the information outlined in point 3, we will try our best to revert back to you within three (3) Lithuanian business days.

4.2. Should you be unhappy with the proposed solution, or if we are unable to respond within three (3) Lithuanian business days, we will acknowledge the complaint within four (4) Lithuanian business days and we will aim to finalise the investigation within fifteen (15) Lithuanian business days.

4.3. After the mentioned fifteen (15) Lithuanian business day period, we will either provide you with a written response to your complaint outlining our proposal of the resolution or we will provide a detailed explanation on why we are not able to provide you with a resolution yet.

4.4. Where we can't provide with your final response within the fifteen (15) Lithuanian business day period, we will provide with you the response within thirty-five (35) Lithuanian business days. We consider such a scenario as an extraordinary circumstance, for complaints of the highest complexity or for instances where our response will depend on the feedback we will be required to obtain from third-parties.

5. Language

5.1. As agreed with you in our Terms and Conditions, all our communications, unless agreed otherwise, will be in English. That applies to the complaints handling process too.
