

1. What is this document?

These terms (the Revolut POS Terms) along with the Business Terms and Business Fees page form the agreement between:

- you, and
- Revolut Technologies Singapore Pte. Ltd., an entity registered in Singapore with UEN 201721013G at 36 Robinson Road, #20-01, City House, Singapore 068877 ("Revolut", "us", or "we");

for the provision of the Revolut Point of Sale ("POS") service. The Payment Processing Services Agreement applies to the processing of any payments that you accept using the Revolut POS.

2. How does the Revolut POS work?

Revolut POS is Revolut's point-of-sale and customer relationship management service.

You can download the Revolut POS to your supported hardware. You'll need to download the Revolut POS App and use your existing Revolut credentials to sign in. You can use the Revolut POS to manage orders and payments in-store, including:

- opening tables, listing orders, parking bills, adding items, and updating the status of a table,
- selecting items and services for purchase when a customer orders, and generating bills for customers,
- processing payments, printing receipts, and logging customer transactions,
- managing discounts, GST, pricing (for in-store or takeaway consumption), and adding tips,
- viewing sales by product, staff or time, and managing staff using the clock-in, clock-out and timesheet features,
- receiving online orders through our Order & Pay feature, and
- any other feature we make available to you from time to time.

If customers pay:

- by cash, you are responsible for handling the cash directly. You can use Revolut POS to log the transaction; or
- by card, you may be able to use Revolut POS with a Revolut device (as defined in and subject to our Revolut Reader and Revolut Terminal Terms, which form part of our Payment Processing Terms) or Tap to Pay.

You are solely responsible for fulfilling your agreements with your customers for any goods or services.

You are responsible for ensuring that any QR code that you display for the Order & Pay feature is securely placed and protected. We assume no liability for incidents, such as where fraudsters replace or overlay your QR code with their own to redirect payments to a fraudulent page.

3. What fees apply?

The Revolut POS service is free at this time. If we decide to charge a fee for the Revolut POS service at a later date, the date on which such fees will take effect is to be determined at the sole discretion of Revolut Technologies Singapore Pte. Ltd. However, you will be provided with a minimum of two weeks' written notice prior to the implementation of any fees detailed above. If we decide to charge any fees for this service, we will update our Business Fees Page accordingly.

4. What customer information can Revolut POS process?

You are responsible for ensuring compliance with applicable data protection laws in relation to any personal data they collect when using the Revolut POS. The Data Processing Addendum set out in the Payment Processing Terms will apply in respect of any customer personal data we process in the course of providing the Revolut POS.

We may add an authorised third party service to the Annex to these terms at any time without giving you notice. Otherwise, we'll give you two weeks' notice before we make any change to these terms (including the removal of an authorised third party service from the Annex). We'll assume you're happy with the change unless you tell us that you want to stop using Revolut POS.

You cannot change these terms.
