My Revolut account

1. Why this information is important

This document sets out the terms and conditions for your Revolut personal account (your account) and its related services. It also sets out other important things that you need to know.
These terms and conditions, along with the Information Sheet, and any other terms and conditions that apply to our services, form a legal agreement (the agreement) between:

- you, the account holder; and

The same terms and conditions apply to you whether the contract is stipulated via the Italian Branch (i.e. you have an Italian account) or with Revolut Bank UAB (i.e. you have a Lithuanian account).
Before signing this agreement, we have made available to you the documents required by law, including the Information Sheet, the Fee Information Document, the Privacy Notice, and the Deposit Insurance Information. You acknowledge that you have read and understood those documents before signing this agreement.
This agreement is indefinite. It means that it is valid until you or we end it.

It's important for you to understand how your account works. You can ask for a copy of these terms and conditions through the Revolut app at any time.

You can find the Revolut Accessibility statement here.

2. What type of account is my Revolut Account?

Your account with us is a current account and the money in it is held by us as a deposit. This type of account is commonly called a “current account” and it is a type of bank account where you can store and withdraw money, and make payments. In these terms and conditions we may refer to it as the “Revolut Account”, a “current account” or an “account”.
You must not use it for business purposes. If you want to use your Revolut account for business purposes, you will need to either apply for a Revolut Pro account or a Revolut Business account.
We do not pay interest on the deposits in your current account, unless you deposit your funds in one of our interest bearing features or products which we may offer from time to time.
The Revolut Account is a package current account. This means that a number of additional services are offered within the current account. You can upgrade or activate some of such services by subscribing to our Revolut Paid Plans.
We also offer a basic account to eligible customers. If you want to verify your eligibility for a basic account, please click here.

3. Using money in your account

Once you have money in your account you'll be able to use our services. For example, you can do the following:

- send money to and receive money from other Revolut accounts and non-Revolut accounts;
- change money from one currency to another (we call this a currency exchange). The currencies available might change occasionally;
- make payments and withdraw cash using your Revolut Card; and
- view information about and manage your account.

We add new features and services all the time. We'll let you know about these through the Revolut app.
The main way we provide our services is through the Revolut mobile app. However, we provide our services in other ways too, like through web pages, other apps, APIs and other means. These terms apply whenever and however you access our services. This means they apply to all the ways you can access a particular service, even if we refer to the service being accessed through a specific means in these terms. For example, when we talk about Revolut Card payments, we mean payments using a physical card, but also a virtual card, a Click to Pay enrolled card or a card added to Apple Pay or Google Pay.

4. Can I open a Revolut account?

By accepting these terms and conditions you confirm that:

- you have received by email, read and understood these terms and conditions, the Information Sheet and the Fee Information Document;
- you have received by email, read and understood the standard information for deposit insurance of the Public Institution Deposit and Investment Insurance (VŠĮ "Indėlių ir investicijų draudimas") which is also available here;
- you have read, understood and accepted our Privacy Policy; and
- you have provided correct and accurate contact information (including an email address that you check regularly) during the onboarding process;
- you are acting on your own behalf, have full legal authority to conduct transactions related to the account; and
- you are the beneficial owner of all funds held in the account and have provided accurate information in this respect.

When you ask us to open an account, we will ask for information about you and where the money you will put in your account comes from. We do this for a number of reasons, including to check your credit score and identity, and to meet our legal and regulatory requirements. For the Basic Account, the requirements set out in the applicable law apply.

Our Privacy Policy explains more about how we use your information for these and other purposes. When we have the information we need, we will open your account.
You can't:

- open more than one Revolut personal account for your own individual use; or
- use a Revolut personal account for business purposes;
- Represent or act on behalf of any third party in relation to transactions conducted through the account. Representation or acting as an agent for another person or entity is strictly prohibited, and you are solely responsible for your own actions and transactions.

5. How do I get information on payments into and out of my account?

You can check all payments into and out of your account and in your account information, which includes monthly statements and your annual statement of fees. Also, you can check main payments into and out of your account through the Revolut app in your transaction history and by clicking on the transaction will be shown detailed information about the transaction and related payments (e.g. spare change, RevPoint, etc). We will not make any changes to your account information and it will be available to you through the Revolut app while you are a customer. If you need to keep a copy of your account information after your account is closed, you can download it while your account is still active. If you close your account and want to get your account information you can email us at support@revolut.com. You can also download information from the app at any time while the account is active.
We will send a notification to your mobile device each time a payment goes into or out of your account. You can turn off these notifications, through the Revolut app but if you do, you should regularly check your payments on the Revolut app. It's important that you know what payments go into and out of your account, so we recommend that you do not turn off notifications.

COMMUNICATING WITH YOU
We'll usually communicate with you through the Revolut app and it's free of charge. Other Revolut group entities may also communicate with you via the Revolut app if this is agreed with you and that entity.
To use the Revolut app and receive communications from us and to keep your account and data safe, your mobile device needs to meet certain technical and software requirements. Accordingly, you must always:

- Use your device's original, manufacturer-supported operating system.
- Promptly install all official software and security updates.
- Download the latest software and version of the Revolut app.

Bypassing your device's standard security features or installing unofficial operating systems significantly increases the risk to your data. If you alter your device's standard operating system or security permissions, we will not be responsible for any device security breaches or any losses you suffer as a result.
Visit our Help Centre here for more information.
This is how we will provide account information and tell you about any fraud, or suspected fraud, relating to your account. It is also how we will tell you if there is a security threat to your account. Make sure you regularly check the Revolut app for this information.
We may also communicate with you by text message, phone call or email, so you should regularly check your text messages and email account.
Your consents, approvals, acceptances and other statements given using the Revolut app shall have the same legal validity as your signature on a written document. Your agreements concluded with us via the Revolut app shall be deemed to be written agreements concluded between you and us. Any instructions to Revolut for conducting operations and other actions submitted/executed from you through the Revolut app will be treated as submitted/executed by you and valid as actions performed by you.
When your device language is set, we'll use it for product screens, in-app messages, push notifications, emails, and other non-legal communications wherever possible. Please note: legally binding documents, product agreements, terms & conditions or disclosures required by law will continue to be in the official language of the market (Italian, in this case). If there's ever a difference between the translated version you see and the official Italian version, the Italian version will be the one that counts.
The display language of the Revolut app follows your device's language settings. We will provide in-app messages, documents and other information in English or Italian - to use Revolut in Italian, change the language settings on your device.

Keep us in the loop

Please keep your details up to date and let us know immediately if any information you've given us changes. If your contact details change, please update them in the app or let Support know they have changed as soon as possible.
If we discover that any of your information is incorrect we will update it.
When we refer to "email" we mean the email you provided to us during the onboarding process (unless you updated your email afterwards). It's important that you provide your primary email address and check it regularly. Should your email address change or should you have any trouble receiving or opening emails from us, you must notify us immediately. Otherwise, you agree that if an email has been delivered to your email address, you should have read it, even if you failed to do so for whatever reason.

To meet our legal and regulatory requirements we might sometimes need to ask for more information about you (for example, if your spending increases). Please provide this information quickly so that there is no disruption to your account or our services.

6. How do I close my account?

You can close your account, and so end the agreement, at any time by letting us know. You can do this through the Revolut app, by writing to us at our head office or by emailing us at support@revolut.com. There is no charge or fee to close your account.
We will complete the closure of your account within a maximum of 6 business days from your request. Where you request the transfer (portability) of your payment account, we will complete it within a maximum of 12 business days. Where we close the account, closure takes effect at the end of the 60 days' prior notice, except in the cases where we are entitled to close it with immediate effect.
You will still have to pay any charges you've run up (for example, if you've asked for an extra Revolut Card). We may also charge you any cancellation fees if you cancel your paid plan subscription under the Paid Plan Terms. In such a case, we will also deactivate the payment cards linked to your paid plan we have provided you. If you withdraw from this agreement, you'll only need to pay for any periodically invoiced services up to the date your withdrawal takes effect. If you've already paid for a period that extends beyond that date, we'll refund you proportionally.
If you, or we, close your account, we will give you at least 60 days to withdraw the money we hold for you (unless there are any legal reasons preventing the transfer). This means, any ordinary payment limits, and fees, will also still apply during this period. For example, any limits on the minimum value of payments that apply while your account is open will also apply when your account is closed.
After these 60 days, you will no longer be entitled to any free payments that your plan entitled you to while your account was open. No penalties or closing costs will be charged in connection with your withdrawal or the closure of your account, and we will not retain any remaining balance. Any remaining balance will be returned to you.
If you want us to send you money in a different currency than the currency we're holding for you, we will convert the currency using the rate that applies at the time, and take our usual fee, before sending the money to you.
If your account has been temporarily restricted, we may not be able to close your account until we have completed our enquiries.

Cancelling your Revolut Card
If you change your mind and don't want a Revolut Card any more, that's not a problem. Just let us know and we'll cancel it free of charge.

How can I withdraw from the agreement?
You can withdraw from this agreement and end it at any time by letting us know through the Revolut app or by emailing us at support@revolut.com.
If you have an Italian account you can also withdraw from this agreement by sending a certified return letter (raccomandata con avviso di ricevimento) to our address, Via Dante 7, 20123 - Milan, Italy.
If you have a Lithuanian account you can also withdraw from this agreement by sending a certified return letter (raccomandata con avviso di ricevimento) to our Lithuanian address, Konstitucijos ave. 21B, 08105 Vilnius, Republic of Lithuania.
You have a right to withdraw without paying any penalties and without having to indicate any reason. In case of withdrawal from the agreement we will return any remaining balance to you.

7. What happens after my account is closed?

We'll hold back enough money to cover any payments that you approved before your account was closed. You'll also still owe us any money that you owed us while your account was open.

How do I get access to my money after my account has closed?
For ten years after your account has closed or your Revolut Card has expired you'll be able to contact customer services (at support@revolut.com) and ask them to send you the money we still hold for you.
Once your account is closed you can withdraw your money in the currency you hold in the account at the time by transferring it to another bank account. If you need to carry out a currency exchange prior to withdrawing, you will only be able to convert the money into your base currency (the currency of the country you live in).

Keeping my account safe

8. How is my money protected?

Your money is protected once it reaches your Revolut Account or deposit account opened within another credit institution which is a participant of the Deposit

Insurance Scheme. Your money will be credited to your Revolut Account as soon as possible after it arrives with us and in any case no later than on the next business day. For example, if you're adding/transferring money to/from your Revolut Account not on a business day your money won't be protected by the Deposit Insurance Scheme until it reaches your Revolut Account or deposit account opened within another credit institution which is a participant of the Deposit Insurance Scheme. Nevertheless, your money will be protected in other ways as prescribed by laws.
The money in your Revolut Account is protected by Lithuanian deposit insurance administered by the Public Institution Deposit and Investment Insurance (VŠĮ "Indėlių ir investicijų draudimas") in accordance with the conditions established by the Law on Insurance of Deposits and Liabilities to Investors of the Republic of Lithuania which are available here. There are no additional mechanisms (we call them “guarantee funds”) under these terms and conditions that protect your money in your Revolut Account.

9. Keeping your security details and Revolut Card safe

We do everything we can to keep your money safe. We ask you to do the same by keeping your security details and Revolut Card safe. This means you shouldn't keep your security details near your Revolut Card, and you should disguise or protect them if you write them down or store them. Don’t share your security details with anyone other than an open-banking provider or third-party provider who is acting in line with regulatory requirements. We've explained more about open-banking providers and third-party providers in section 10 of these terms and conditions.
Sometimes it's easy to forget to take the steps you must take to keep your money safe. Here are a couple of tips:
make sure you close down the Revolut app when you're not using it; and keep your mobile phone and your email account secure and don't let other people use them.
Contact us through the Revolut app, as soon as possible, if your Revolut Card is lost or stolen, or if your Revolut Card or security details could be used without your permission.
If you can, you should, without undue delay, also freeze your Revolut Card using the Revolut app or by calling the automated number below. If you later realise there’s not a risk to your Revolut Card's security, you can unfreeze it.

How you can contact us
Write to us:

- Via Dante 7 , Milano (MI) - CAP 20123, Italy, if your account has an Italian IBAN (i.e. your IBAN starts with the IT code).
- Konstitucijos ave. 21B, 08105 Vilnius, the Republic of Lithuania, if your account has a Lithuanian IBAN (i.e. your IBAN starts with the LT code).

Freeze your Revolut Card:

- +370 5 214 3608 (your telecommunication service provider's standard rates apply).

Tell us about a lost or stolen Revolut Card or security details:

- Send us a message through the Revolut app on someone else's device.
- Send us a message on social media.
- Email us at support@revolut.com.

Call us:

- +370 5 214 3608 (your telecommunication service provider's standard rates apply). This is an automated phone line, and is unable to connect you to a human agent. It can only be used to block your Revolut Card, or to provide general automated responses.

10. Making payments and accessing accounts using 'open banking'

You can use 'open banking' to access the accounts you have with other providers via the Revolut app and to allow other providers to have access to your Revolut account.

Allowing other providers to have access to your Revolut account
You can allow other providers to have access to your account information or make payments on your behalf. These providers are often referred to as "open banking providers" or "third-party providers".
These providers will often need to be authorised by a regulator such as the Bank of Italy or by the regulator of any other relevant country. If you are thinking of using an open-banking provider or third-party provider, you should ask them for details of their authorisation (if they have any) and check this yourself (you can do this by checking the Bank of Italy online register of authorised companies).
When you access your Revolut account via an open banking provider or third-party provider, our terms and conditions still apply to your use of your Revolut account.
We might have to block an open-banking provider's or third-party provider's access to your account (for example, if we're concerned about fraud, or if they don't have the authorisation they need, or if there are legal or regulatory reasons for doing so). If we do this, we'll try to let you know beforehand or as soon as possible afterwards. We'll do this through the Revolut app or by email, unless it would be unlawful to do so or there are valid security reasons why we can't. We'll also unblock the third-party provider's access as soon as the reasons for denying them access no longer exist.

You also have the right to block an open banking provider's or third-party provider's access to your Revolut account. You should contact us if you think a third-party provider is acting without your consent.
When you use an open banking provider or a third-party provider, you authorise them and give consent to them to have access to your Revolut account information or make payments from your Revolut account on your behalf. How we share your information for these and other purposes is set out in our Privacy Policy.

Using the Revolut app to access accounts with other providers
You can also access your accounts with other providers, and initiate payments from those accounts, via the Revolut app. We call these our "Open Banking Services". Revolut is authorised to provide these services.
When you use our Open Banking Services to view information about an account you hold with another provider, you must authorise us to access that account. We won't store any of the sensitive payment data you provide to give that authorisation.
Once you've authorised us to access the account for the account information purposes:

- We will access your account information on your behalf (meaning information like your account details, transaction history and the features of your account).
- We will analyse this information to provide spending insights to you (like suggesting how you might be able to save money).

You can revoke your consent at any time via the Revolut app.
How we use your information for these and other purposes is set out in our Privacy Policy.
When you use our Open Banking Services to initiate a payment from an account you hold with another provider, you must authorise us to make that payment as well. We won't store any of the sensitive payment data you provide to give that authorisation.
We will consider that you gave us consent and authorised us to initiate payments from those accounts when you choose in Revolut app to use a certain payment service and after you fill in all necessary and requested information you submit it on Revolut app.

Moving money in and out

11. Adding money to my account

You can add money to your account by:

- Using a debit card or credit card registered with us (we call this your stored card). Your stored card must be in your name.
- Bank transfer. When you add money by bank transfer, you must use the account details stated in the Revolut app. Make sure you follow the prompts from the app carefully to avoid any delays.The account details you must use to add money to your account will depend on the currency of the money you are adding. For example, if you want to add money to your account in euro (€), you must use the 'Euro account' details stated in the Revolut app.

Fees may apply when adding money to your account. You can read about these fees on the Information Sheet and on the Fee Information Document.
If you use a stored card or a bank account that is in one currency to add money to your account in another currency, your bank or card provider may charge a fee.
We will consider that you gave us consent and authorized us to execute the transaction once you submit your payment order on the Revolut app.
There is more information on adding money to your account in our FAQs.

Holding money in your account
Once you have added money to your account, you can transfer it between the various types of sub accounts we offer. For example, you can transfer your money between currencies, or hold it in a Personal Pocket. These are all sub accounts of your account. All the rules that apply to your main account also apply to your sub accounts - for example, they can be accessed by debt collecting agencies.
In certain circumstances we may have to close your sub-account. If we do, we will inform you in advance and you will be able to transfer or exchange any funds you hold in the sub account before it is closed. You authorise us to convert any remaining funds to your base currency and close your sub-account.

Never worry about the balance of your Revolut account getting too low
We know that it's important to be able to make payments from your account whenever you want. You can authorise us to add a specific amount of money to your account from your stored card whenever the value of money in your account drops below a certain amount. We call this an auto-add. You can cancel an auto-add at any time through the Revolut app or by contacting your card provider.

Payment limits
To comply with our anti-money laundering and counter-terrorist financing obligations, we might limit how much you can receive into or pay from your account, or how much you can withdraw or spend using your Revolut Card. These limits can change from time to time and, when possible, are available in the App.

In some cases, you may be able to apply for a limit increase in the App. This requires you to provide additional verification documents. Approval is subject to our compliance checks.
We might also limit the value of currency exchange you can carry out at any one time or over a period of time. These limits can change from time to time. Information about these limits is set out here.

Keep your currency consistent
It's important that any payment to your account is made in the currency of your account. Otherwise, the payment will be converted to the currency of your account. This means that your account might be credited with more or less than you expected. We won't be responsible for any losses if this happens.

12. Transferring money between Revolut accounts

You can send money to, and receive money from, other Revolut accounts. We call these sorts of payments Instant Transfers. All Instant Transfers are received immediately.
You can make an Instant Transfer to another Revolut user's account by choosing them from the contacts list in the Revolut app, by using their username, or by using any other method we provide to identify them, and following the prompts.

Revolut Messenger
You can also use this thread in the transfer section of the Revolut app to chat with your contacts. We call this function "Revolut Messenger". Revolut Messenger is intended to make your use of Revolut more social by allowing you to communicate with other Revolut users about your activity on the Revolut app.
In order to use Revolut Messenger:

- you and the user you want to chat with must both have been using a version of the Revolut app, and signed up to Revolut in a country that supports Revolut Messenger; and
- either you must have successfully made a payment to the user in the past; or
- you both must have each other saved in the contacts of your mobile device and have those contacts synced with the Revolut app; or
- you both must have been added to a group feature where Revolut Messenger is supported (such as our split bill feature).

If you don’t want to receive messages on Revolut Messenger from a user, you are able to block them. If you don't want to receive messages on Revolut Messenger at all, you can deactivate it completely. You can do both these things in the Revolut app.
To ensure any communication is kept private, Revolut Messenger is protected using end to end encryption. This means that Revolut cannot access messages in your Revolut Messenger in any circumstances. For example, if you contact our Support team in relation to something that has occurred on Revolut Messenger, we will not be able to see your thread. It also means we are unable to provide any information about messages in your Revolut Messenger even if you ask us for it.
Revolut Messenger does not provide any permanent storage or backup of the messages in your thread. If you delete and reinstall the Revolut app, or if you change the device you are using to access the Revolut app, your messages will be permanently lost.
The Instant Transfers shown in your Revolut Messenger thread are not messages, are not encrypted, and are permanently stored (in the same way as any other transaction data of yours). Rather, they are just reminders of the payments you have made to and from the person you are chatting with. They will still appear in your thread if you change devices or reinstall the app.
Our Community Standards apply whenever you use Revolut Messenger. If you breach those Community Standards, we may restrict or remove your access to Revolut Messenger, or close your Revolut account completely. If you think someone else is breaching those standards (for example, they are harassing you or impersonating someone), you can report them by contacting Support. However, remember that because your messages are encrypted, we cannot see them. This may mean you will need to provide screenshots to Support as evidence of any report you are making.

Group Pockets

If you are a member of a Group Pocket, you can send instant transfers to that as well. A Group Pocket is an account set up and controlled by an individual Revolut user. All members of a Group Pocket can see their own transactions in the Group Pocket and can leave it at any time. Only the Revolut user who set up the Group Pocket (the owner) can automatically see all of the Group Pocket’s transactions, close the Group Pocket, add or remove other members, and allow Group Pocket members to withdraw funds (or revoke their access). You should only join a Group Pocket, or send money to it, if you trust the owner as they own the funds - if the owner at any point stops being a Revolut account holder or their account is locked, then you will not be able to access the funds in the Group Pocket.

Making purchases using Pay with Revolut

You can also make an Instant Transfer to a business which uses "Pay with Revolut" to receive payments. This can happen in the following two ways:

- You can instruct us to make an Instant Transfer for a set amount from your Revolut Account to a business (for example, instead of paying by card in a checkout). We call these payments "Customer Initiated Payments".
- You can consent to a business being able to collect Instant Transfers from your Revolut account in the future (for example, if you allow a business to collect payments from your account when you buy something or on a regular basis, like for a subscription). We call these "Merchant Initiated Payments".

Customer Initiated Payments
Customer Initiated Payments are for a set amount and are a one-off. The business will only ever be paid the amount you confirm and the business cannot collect any other payments without your permission.

Merchant Initiated Payments
Merchant Initiated Payments are collected by the business based on your previous consent, and so can be for any amount or at any interval. If you want to stop a Merchant Initiated Payment, you should contact the business charging it to cancel the service. You can also contact us to withdraw your consent (via chat), and we will action your request by the end of the next business day.
We will notify you in the Revolut app whenever a Customer Initiated Payment or Merchant Initiated Payment is made from your Revolut account.

Protection when using Pay With Revolut
Pay with Revolut is a service we offer businesses to allow you to pay them directly from your Revolut account, without any frustrating card details. However, we want Pay with Revolut to work for you as well as for businesses. So we have created a Buyer Protection Policy which applies when you make an eligible purchase using Pay with Revolut.

Refunds for Merchant Initiated Payments
Merchant Initiated Payments are collected from your account based on a consent you have given in the past. We encourage businesses to tell you the amount of any Merchant Initiated Payment before they collect it. However, if you think a Merchant Initiated Payment has been taken from your account in error, you can ask us to refund it within 8 weeks of it being paid. To request a refund, contact us via chat, and we will let you know if your refund is successful within 10 business days.

Move Money (Based on Balance) Automation

In the Revolut app, you may have access to a feature allowing you to automate move money actions between your eligible Revolut bank account and sub-accounts (like Pockets) with a Revolut entity triggered by your chosen account's balance:

- "drops below" trigger: The balance of your chosen account drops below a defined amount, and you define a top-up amount. When this occurs, you instruct us to immediately move (execute an internal standing order) the full amount of excess to your chosen destination account.
- "exceeds" trigger: The balance of your chosen account exceeds a defined amount. When this occurs, you instruct us to immediately move (execute an internal standing order) the full amount of excess to your chosen destination account.

You must set up and confirm the automation settings within the Revolut app to authorise this standing instruction. You can also set daily, weekly or monthly value limits that apply to your automation to cap the total amount moved over time. For joint accounts, either account holder can set up an automation. When an automation is established, modified or cancelled on a joint account, we will notify the other account holder.

Where your source/destination account requires the payment to be processed through a nominated account, your instruction authorises us to execute a multi-step transfer through that intermediary account.

You may pause or cancel the standing instruction at any time for future trigger events via your in-app dashboard. Because these transfers are executed instantly the moment your balance crosses a trigger threshold, individual transfers cannot be cancelled or stopped once they have been initiated.

You may set up automations involving currency exchange. When creating an automation, you will see a preview of the exchange rate, estimated fees and total estimated cost when you set these up. Because currency markets are dynamic, the actual rate applied when your automation triggers may differ from the initial preview. The final transaction will include any applicable fees based on your Revolut Plan, the volume of currency you have exchanged that month, and the day the trade is executed, including:

- Weekend Fees: Applied to exchanges executed over the weekend (between Friday 5:00 PM and Sunday 6:00 PM ET time zone).
- Fair Usage Fees: Applied if you exceed your plan's monthly exchange allowance.

For more information, review our Information sheet.

You can view the exact exchange rate and final fees for any completed automation at any time in your Transaction History.

13. Making other types of payments

It's easy to send money to your or someone else's bank account. You can make a one-off payment or set up a recurring payment (like a standing order). Just enter the sort code and account number (or, for international payments, the BIC and IBAN) of the account you're sending money to in the Revolut app and follow the prompts. We may need to ask for other information as well.

Using your Revolut Card
You can also make payments or withdraw cash using your Revolut Card. You can do this by entering the details of your Revolut Card (the card number, expiry date and CVC number) or your PIN. We will consider these actions as you are giving consent to make payments or withdraw cash from your Revolut account. You also give your consent to make payments from your Revolut Card by:

- touching your Revolut Card at the terminal (a 'contactless' transaction) and taking other actions on the electronic card reader. No PIN code is required for contactless payments up to a certain amount;
- signing for the purchase on the receipt issued by the electronic card reader;
- inserting your Revolut Card into the electronic card reader and doing something further that the electronic card reader requests without entering your PIN code (e. g. when paying the toll, car parking lot charges, etc.);
- providing your Revolut Card number and other details and consenting to the initiation of payment orders for debiting your account when entering into an agreement with a trader or service provider; or
- providing your Revolut Card number and other details to a trade or service provider and authenticating this payment using a 3D Secure method. This is a step you will have to take when buying online using your Revolut Card if a trade or service provider has implemented this method. If they have, a window will pop up on the trade or service provider's website asking you to verify the payment and you will receive a push notification to your Revolut app. You will have to open your app and confirm the transaction to complete the payment.

When you use your Revolut Card to make a withdrawal from an ATM or make a payment (for example, in a shop or restaurant), we will consider the payment to be authorised by you unless:

- you let us know that the money has been stolen from your account; or
- you don't think we've carried out your instructions correctly.

We might charge you a fee for making ATM withdrawals. You can read about these fees on the information sheet.

We are not responsible for losses where payments are returned in a different currency

Sometimes, money you've asked us to transfer to someone is not paid into their account and is returned to us. If we had to carry out a currency exchange when we sent the payment, and can show that we did everything right, when we return the money to you we will return it in the converted currency or convert it back to the original currency. This means that the amount you receive back into your account might be less or more depending on the currency conversion rate at the time of return. We would not be responsible for any losses that this causes you.

TAKE CARE ENTERING THE DETAILS OF THE PERSON YOU WANT TO PAY

When you enter the details of the person you want to pay, make sure the details are correct. If they're not, your payment might be delayed or you might lose your money if it's sent to the wrong account.

Make sure you know the person you are making a payment to. If someone approaches you and asks you to make a payment to them, but you are not sure who they are or what the payment is for, you may be a victim of a scam, and we may not be able to recover the money for you.

If the person you want to pay does not receive the money, we won't be responsible if we processed the payment correctly but you gave us the wrong details.

If you contact our customer support team through the Revolut app we can give you information to help you try to recover the money, including details of the person who did receive the money (if we have those details).

The EEA is made up of all the countries in the European Union, plus Norway, Iceland and Liechtenstein.

Direct debits

Depending on where you live, you may be able to pay direct debits from your account, in euros, to bank accounts held in the Single European Payments Area (which is all the countries in the EEA plus Switzerland, Monaco and San Marino) called SEPA direct debits.

The bank holding the account the direct debit is to be paid to (the payee's bank) is responsible for asking us for the payment when it is due.

You can:

- limit the amount of a direct debit or how often it is paid from your account (or both);

- cancel direct debits paid from your account; and
- choose to only allow direct debits to be paid to certain people.

You can do this by contacting us through the Revolut app.
If you have set up a direct debit, the payee's bank will ask for it on the business day before it is due and we will pay it to the bank on the due date. If the due date is a non-working day for the payee's bank (this is normally a weekend or bank holiday), it will reach the bank on the next working day.

When a direct debit is due, we will attempt to collect it in the following order:

- First, we will try to collect the payment in the currency of the direct debit (e.g. EUR for SEPA direct debits).
- If there are insufficient funds to cover the full amount, we next try to collect the payment from your main account (if it is a different currency to the direct debit).
- Finally, if there are insufficient funds to cover the full amount, we'll try to collect the payment from any other fiat currency you hold, prioritising the currency with the highest balance first.

Your direct debit will only be processed if you have sufficient funds to cover the full amount in any one currency. We will not split the payment across currencies.

We do not charge any fees for this service, and the exchange does not count towards your exchange limits. Normal exchange rates apply.

Payments for services provided by other Revolut group companies
The Revolut app is more than just a current account. It's a platform where you can access a whole range of services.
Not all of these services are provided by us (Revolut Bank UAB and its Italian Branch). Some are provided by other companies within our group. Where this is the case, you must agree to separate terms and conditions with those companies, which will govern those services. For example:

- If you use cryptocurrency services, these are provided by Revolut Digital Assets Europe Limited ("RDAEL"), and are governed by the Cryptocurrency Terms and Conditions with which you agreed to. We do not provide these services and you do not have rights against us under those Cryptocurrency Terms and Conditions.
- If you use precious metal services, these are provided by Revolut Ltd, and are governed by the Precious Metal Terms and Conditions with which you agreed to.

We do not provide this service and you do not have rights against us under those Precious Metal Terms and Conditions.

- If you use trading services, these are provided by Revolut Securities Europe UAB, and are governed by the Trading Terms and Conditions with which you agreed to. We do not provide this service and you do not have rights against us under those Trading Terms and Conditions.
- If you use Stays services, these are provided by Revolut Ltd, and are governed by the Stays Terms and Conditions with which you agreed to. We do not provide this service and you do not have rights against us under those Stays Terms and Conditions.
- The Flexible Cash Funds product is provided by Revolut Securities Europe UAB, and is governed by the Flexible Cash Funds Schedule of the Revolut Securities Europe UAB Terms and Conditions to which you have agreed. We do not provide this service and you do not have rights against us under the Flexible Cash Funds Schedule.
- Any other services provided by another group company.

Although we do not provide these services, normally they will result in a payment needing to be made to or from your current account with us. For example, when you buy or sell cryptocurrency, a payment will be taken from, or made to, your current account with us for the cryptocurrency. Where this is the case, we will credit or debit your current account with us as requested by other Revolut group companies on the basis of your terms and conditions with them.
Sometimes, we may set up a sub-account in your current account if needed for these services. For example, if you use trading services, you will see you have a sub-account which you must fund before you can use the trading services.

Card transfers

You can use Revolut to send money to a card. This means a payment that is sent via card schemes instead of traditional payment schemes. The recipient of the payment is identified by their card number instead of their bank account number.
Card transfers are sent instantly, and should arrive within 30 minutes. This means there is no opportunity to cancel this type of payment after it is sent, so please make sure that the details you enter are correct.
Remember that your card number is a valuable piece of information that can be used to commit fraud against you. The only thing you need to share from your card to make a card transfer is the card number; you do not need the expiry date and you certainly don't need the security code, so make sure you keep these pieces of information safe.

Local account details

Depending on your country, we may provide you with local account details. If we provide you with local account details from within the EEA (e.g. PLN, RON or similar), we treat this as a sub-account of your main account, and the rules that apply to your main account also apply to this sub-account.
If we provide you with local account details from outside the EEA (e.g. GBP, USD or similar), whenever you receive a payment to these details, we will issue an equivalent amount of e-money. When we do, you authorise us to immediately transfer this e-money to your current account. Whenever you make a payment from these account details, you authorise us to take the funds from your current account, immediately issue an equivalent amount of e-money, and immediately pay it out to the recipient in accordance with these terms and conditions.

Making Payments in Chinese Yuan
You can make payments from your Revolut account in Chinese Yuan.
Payments using a payment partner

Revolut may engage with one or more payment partners to facilitate payments in Yuan. More information relating to these partners is set out in the Revolut App.
If you have engaged in any cryptocurrency related activity on any Revolut group entity in the last six months, you may not be able to use Revolut to send payments in Chinese Yuan through our payment partners. This is due to restrictions put in place by the partners we use to offer this service. By cryptocurrency related activity, we mean you have either:

- held, bought or sold cryptocurrency directly on the Revolut App; or
- received or sent cryptocurrency proceeds from a cryptocurrency exchange into your Revolut crypto account.

The maximum value of any one payment is CNY50,000.
There are restrictions as per Chinese regulations on the amount of funds and number of transfers a beneficiary with an account with our designated payment partner can receive within a month / year based on the reason for transfer. If these limits are exceeded on the beneficiary side, the payment will be canceled.

In order to make one of these payments, you will need to provide the information required by our payment partners, as set out in the Revolut App.
You also acknowledge that certain of your personal data will be transferred to our partner's banks in China if you make a payment in Chinese Yuan. This is necessary in order to process the payment. See our Customer Privacy Notice (accessible here) for more information on how we handle your personal data.

The exchange rate used for your payment in Yuan will be shown to you in the app before you make the payment. This rate is calculated in the same way as for any other currency exchange on Revolut, and will also count towards your fair usage limit. Payments completed with our payment partners are completed in near real-time when completed on a business day. Payments on a non-business day are completed on the next business day.

Transfers to Mobile Wallets
Depending on your country, you may be able to use the Revolut app to send outbound payments to Mobile Wallet recipients. As this payment is not sent through a traditional payment scheme, no bank account details are required for you to complete this transfer. Your recipient will be identified by the phone number or email linked to their Mobile Wallet account (phone number or email).
To send a payment using your Mobile Wallets, you'll need to provide a wallet identifier and information about your payment.
These transfers are normally sent instantly and are expected to arrive in your recipient's wallet within 30 minutes, but can sometimes take up to a day. As this is an international transfer, our regular international payment fees will apply (please see our information sheet to access the applicable fees). No additional fees are applicable to these payments.

14. What happens if a payment was sent to the wrong account, wasn't sent at all or was delayed?

We'll always try to process your payments correctly and on time, but sometimes things go wrong and a payment might be delayed or not received by the person you wanted to pay.
If something has gone wrong and:

- the person paying you;
- the bank account you wanted to make the payment into; or
- the retailer you were paying;

is in the EEA, let us know through the Revolut app. You need to let us know as soon as possible, and no later than 13 months after the amount was taken from your account. If the money is not received into the account you sent it to, we'll refund the payment back into your account. If you've had to pay any charges or interest as a result of our mistake, we'll refund those too.
If we received a payment on your behalf, but the money was not paid into your account on time, we'll immediately credit your account with the amount of the payment.

These rules don't apply to currency exchanges.

What to do if you think you have made a mistake?
You should always check that you have entered the correct details for the person you want to pay before you make a payment. It's always a good idea to make a test payment of a small amount (say, €1) to make sure that you have the account details correct. You should always think about the following:

- Always make sure you know the person you are making a payment to. If someone approaches you and asks you to make a payment to them, but you are not sure who they are or what the payment is for, you may be a victim of a scam.
- The contacts you see in the Revolut app are taken from the names and phone numbers you have saved to your own phone. These names and numbers are not verified by us or anyone else. This means that if you have saved the wrong number or wrong name to your phone, you will pay the wrong person and may lose your money.
- The usernames you see in the Revolut app can look similar to other usernames and are able to be changed by individual users. We take steps to remove any inappropriate usernames, but these usernames are not verified by us or anyone else. This means that if you are not sure that the person is who they say they are, you may pay the wrong person and may lose your money.

We are not responsible if we make a payment to the person you tell us to, even if you gave us the wrong account number, username or phone number by mistake. However, if you ask us to, we'll try to get your money back for you. We may also try to get you information about the beneficiary so that you can try to get it back yourself (if the law allows us to). While we will try to do these things, we don't guarantee that we will, and in some cases we won't be able to.

What we'll do if we, or someone else, has made a mistake?
On the other hand, if a payment is mistakenly paid into your Revolut account by another person, you will have to pay them back. By accepting these terms you agree that we have a right to reverse transactions credited to your account in the following cases:

- The sums were credited following an error by the payer, their account provider, a third party or Revolut; or
- We have evidence that you received a payment behaving fraudulently or otherwise criminally.

If the person who mistakenly made the payment makes a legal claim to get it back themselves, we may need to share your information with them.
You agree that if we pre-fund a payment into your account when you initiate a top-up using our Open Banking Services as described in Section 10, and the payment fails to arrive, we can reverse the payment or put a hold on it.
For these reasons, you should always check your account regularly to make sure everything is correct.

15. Send and receive money using a payment link

You can easily send money to a friend who doesn't have a Revolut account by setting up a 'payment link' in the Revolut app. A payment link allows you to agree to pay a certain amount without entering the account or card details the payment will be made to. Instead, you choose the amount, share the link, and the recipient enters their account details or card number themselves.
You can also create a payment link to receive payments and send that link to your friend.
Once you've sent the link to your friend, they will need to complete the payment link by entering the relevant details.

- If you are sending money using a payment link, your friend will need to enter their bank account details or card number into the link. The payment will then be made to their bank account, as if you had entered those details into the app yourself. Sometimes, because of the size or nature of the payment, your friend will be asked to join Revolut in order to complete the transaction. Once they have, the payment will be made to their Revolut account.
- If you are receiving money using a payment link, your friend will need to enter their debit or credit card details, or details of a card added to Apple Pay or Google Pay, into the link. The payment will then be made from their card. We may put limits on the amount you can request using a payment link, which we will show you in the app.

Sometimes we may have to ask your friend to open a Revolut account before they can receive a payment for other reasons too. If they don't, we won't be able to make the payment to them or from them.
All payment links have a time limit. After this, the link will expire, and your friend will not be able to make or receive your payment. We'll tell you what this time limit is in the app when you create the link.
Remember, when you create a payment link to send money, you are agreeing to make a payment without entering the account or card details yourself. The payment will be made to whatever details are entered into the link. Make sure you are careful where you share a link, and who you share it with. For example, if you share a “send money” link on your friend’s social media profile, someone else could click on the link and claim the money themselves. If you’re worried about a payment link you have created, you can cancel it (before it is completed) through the transaction history in the app.

Revolut.Me
You may be able to send or receive payments from others using Revolut.Me links. By sharing your Revolut.Me link or QR code, you can receive Revolut.Me payments from anyone, anywhere, who has a valid means of payment. Anyone who has your Revolut.Me details will be able to make a Revolut.Me payment to you. They will need to add a description and fill in the amount they want to pay you. If they don’t complete this process, you will not be paid.
Unlike payment links, Revolut.Me links are a static URL which can be used to receive payments on an ongoing basis. We may put limits on the amount you can request using the Revolut.Me link, which we will show you in the app.
The first time you use Revolut.Me, we will generate a Revolut.Me username for you. This will appear as part of your QR code or on your Revolut.Me link. You can find the QR code and your Revolut.Me link in the Revolut app.
We may allow you to change your Revolut.Me username if you don’t like it.
Our Community Standards apply to your Revolut.Me username, and your use of Revolut.Me.

16. What exchange rate do you use?

You can find more details of our fee on our Information sheet.. You can always see our live exchange rate in the Revolut app.
All Standard and Plus users can make a set amount of exchanges at this rate every month. The set amount depends on what your base currency is and is set out on the information sheet. Standard and Plus users who exchange more than this amount start paying a fair usage fee (but Premium, Metal and Ultra customers do not).
Once we've converted a currency, your transaction history in the Revolut app will show the exchange rate we used too.
The exchange rate may change between the time you told us you wanted to exchange currency and the time we actually carry out the conversion. This means that if you ask us to exchange currency, you may receive a little more or less back than what you had expected.
We’re not responsible if:

- you lose any money as a result of converting currency; or

- you're charged any fees or lose any money because you're using your Revolut Card in another country and you ask the retailer (or the retailer's bank) to make the conversion. (For example, imagine you're a Lithuanian customer traveling in Japan. When you pay your bill at a restaurant you agree to pay in Euro rather than Yen. This means you've asked for the retailer's bank to convert the currency. We can't be responsible if that bank gives you a worse exchange rate or charges you fees).

Pausing currency exchanges and transfers

During periods of extreme market volatility or liquidity constraints, or technical or system failures outside of our reasonable control, we may temporarily pause exchanges for certain currencies. If a currency is unavailable, it will be clearly indicated in-app. During such pauses, cross-currency internal transfers to other Revolut customers involving the affected currency will also be temporarily suspended. We accept no liability for any loss that may be caused as a result, save that nothing in this section excludes or limits our liability for losses caused by our fraud or gross negligence.

17. Can I cancel a payment order or currency exchange?

You can cancel a payment order (including a recurring payment or a SEPA direct debit) at any time up to the end of the business day before the same payment is due to be paid from your account.
You can't cancel a payment order on the same day it's due to be paid from your account. This means that you cannot cancel transfers between Revolut accounts because such transfers are executed immediately.
You also can't cancel a currency exchange once we've received your request to carry it out.

It's easy to cancel a bank transfer order.

You can cancel a bank transfer order through the Revolut app.

18. How long does it take to make a payment?

We understand that when you make a payment, one of the most important things is that the person the payment is for receives it on time. The time it takes depends on when you give us the instruction, the payment method and the currency.
The below explains when we'll make payments. Please note all times in these terms and conditions are based on UK time, that is, Greenwich Mean Time (GMT) from October to March, and British Summer Time (BST) from March to October.

Bank transfers:

- SEPA Instant credit transfers (EUR):

You can make a payment at any time, and we will process it immediately. Funds will normally reach the beneficiary within 10 seconds, available 24/7/365.

- SEPA Credit transfers (EUR):

If we receive your payment instruction by 1:00 pm UK time on a business day, the funds will normally be credited to the beneficiary on the same business day. Instructions received after this cut off time, or on a non business day, will be processed on the next business day.

- EEA domestic credit transfers (non EUR currencies, e.g. PLN, RON):

Transfers in other EEA currencies will normally be credited to the beneficiary by the end of the next business day. However, in some cases this may take up to 4 business days.

- International payments:

International payments outside the EEA, or in non EEA currencies, usually take between 0-2 business days, but may take longer depending on the payment corridor, currency, amount, intermediary banks, and compliance checks.

- Alternative payment methods:

Where supported, payments are processed instantly.

- Future dated or recurring payments:

If you schedule a payment for a future date, we will process it on that date (if it is a business day) or on the next business day (if it falls on a non business day).
If you tell us to make a currency exchange, you will receive the converted amount immediately.
Card payments and transfers:

- Card transactions are processed immediately at the time of purchase. However, settlement and final posting to your account may depend on the merchants acquiring bank and applicable card scheme rules.

19. When we may refuse or delay a payment

We may refuse to make a payment (including inbound and outbound payments), in the following circumstances:

- if legal or regulatory requirements prevent us from making the payment or mean that we need to carry out further checks;

- if you have broken these terms and conditions in a way that we reasonably believe justifies us refusing your payment;
- if processing your instruction would break these terms and conditions or that your instruction doesn't contain all the information we need to make the payment properly;
- if the amount is over, or would take you over, any limit that applies to your account, including any limit set by yourself. We've set out the limits in here;
- if there is not enough money available in your account to make the payment and cover any charge;
- Insolvency proceedings are initiated against you or you've entered into an individual voluntary arrangement with your creditors;
- if, even after doing everything reasonably possible, we won't be able to make the payment on time;
- if a third party prevents us from making the payment (for example, if Mastercard or Visa do not allow a payment or cash withdrawal using your Revolut Card);
- if we have asked you for important information we reasonably need and you have not given us that information; or
- if we have suspended your account.

We may also refuse to issue a new Revolut Card if you do not have enough money in your account to pay us to issue or deliver the card.
We may delay a payment (including inbound and outbound payments), if legal or regulatory requirements prevent us from making the payment or mean that we need to carry out further checks.
WHEN WE REFUSE TO MAKE A PAYMENT, WE'LL ALWAYS (UNLESS IT WOULD BE UNLAWFUL OR TECHNICALLY IMPOSSIBLE FOR US TO DO SO) TRY TO LET YOU KNOW OF THAT REFUSAL, THE REASONS FOR THAT REFUSAL (IF POSSIBLE), AND THE PROCEDURE FOR RECTIFYING ANY FACTUAL ERRORS THAT LEAD TO THAT REFUSAL. SUCH NOTIFICATION SHALL BE GIVEN TO YOU AS SOON AS PRACTICABLE FOLLOWING THE REFUSAL.
If we can, we'll use the Revolut app to tell you that we have refused to make a payment. If you'd like to find out why we refused the payment, and what you can do to solve any problem, please contact us through the app.
We won't be responsible for any losses you suffer as a result of us refusing or delaying a payment.

20. Third-party fees for making or receiving payments

We try to keep our payments free. However, sometimes we have to charge a fee to be able to provide a service. Where we do, we aim to keep our fees low. We'll always show you any fee that applies to a payment in the app before you make the payment, and you can also see our current fees on our information sheet.
We don't charge any fees for receiving payments. We don't charge any fees for sending local payments in your base currency either.
If you make a payment in another currency or to another country, we may charge a cross-border or SWIFT payment fee. These fees are set out in the information sheet. We will always tell you about them, and tell you how much they cost, in the Revolut app before you make a payment.
Other banks involved, such as the bank of the person you are paying or certain correspondent or intermediary banks (banks that help transfer the money between other banks) might sometimes take their fees from the payment you're sending or receiving. This could mean that you or the person you are paying receives less than expected. For example, you could only receive €90 from someone who has sent you €100 because the other person's bank has charged a €10 fee.
This might happen if:

- the bank of the person you are sending a payment to or receiving a payment from is within the EEA, and the payment is in a currency that is not the currency of an EEA member state; or
- you make a payment to or receive a payment from someone whose bank is outside the EEA.

To be clear, we won't charge you any fees ourselves for receiving payments. We will always give you the full amount we receive from another bank. Likewise, we will always send the full amount that you ask us to send, but we can't guarantee that the full amount will be paid into the other person's account without a fee being taken by another bank. If you make a card transfer, you will also be charged a fee. This fee will depend on the amount you are sending and where you are sending it to. This fee will be calculated in real time and shown to you in the app before you make the payment.

What happens if something goes wrong

21. What happens if someone steals from my account?

Let us know as soon as possible through the Revolut app (and no later than within 13 months from the date the money was taken from your account). We'll pay the money back into your account if any of the following apply:

- you couldn't have known that your security details or Revolut Card were at risk of being misused;
- the payment happened because someone we're responsible for made a mistake;
- the payment was taken after you told us that someone knew your security details or your Revolut Card was lost or stolen, or we didn't give you a way to tell us about this;
- the law required us to make you follow certain prompts when you instructed us to make the payment and we didn't do this; or
- you made a payment to pay for certain goods or services you bought online or through some other method that is not face-to-face (there are some types of contracts this might not apply to, such as contracts for rental accommodation, but we can give you more information about this when you let us know about the problem).
- We'll also pay back any charges you had to pay as a result of the payment being taken from your account.

We won't refund any money if you've acted fraudulently, or you intentionally or carelessly failed to keep your security details or Revolut Card safe (unless you told us about this before the payment was taken from your account). For example, we wouldn’t make a refund if you gave someone your Revolut Card PIN and they made a payment using your card without you knowing about it.

22. When we might block your payments or your Revolut Card

The safety of your money is important to us. We might prevent you from making payments or using your Revolut Card if:
1. we're reasonably concerned about its security;
2. we're reasonably concerned that it might be used fraudulently or without your permission including in case of use of your account:

- for non-personal purposes;
- for illegal purposes (for example, committing fraud);
- to abuse, exploit or get around any usage restrictions set by a service provider your Revolut Card is registered with;
- to trade in foreign currencies for speculative purposes (that is, to take advantage of any expected rise or fall in the value of a currency) or to take advantage of discrepancies in the foreign exchange market;

- to allow any other person to access, use, or control your Revolut account, the Revolut app, or your Revolut Card, or to use a Revolut account that is not yours;

3. we need to meet our legal obligations arising from applicable laws.

We'll tell you through the Revolut app before, or as soon as possible after, we block your payment or your Revolut Card. We'll also let you know why we've done it (unless the provision of such information would conflict with public order or public security objectives, or is otherwise restricted under applicable anti-money laundering and counter-terrorist financing laws and regulations). We will execute your payments or unblock your Revolut Card as soon as the reason(s) for blocking it no longer exists.

23. When could you suspend or close my account?

We may suspend or close your account immediately (including the access to the services provided by the other Revolut group entities), and end your access to our website or Revolut app, in exceptional circumstances. Exceptional circumstances are the following:

- if we have good reason to suspect that you are behaving fraudulently or otherwise criminally;
- if you haven't given us (or someone acting on our behalf) any information we need, or we have good reason to believe that information you have provided is incorrect or not true;
- if you've breached these terms and conditions in a serious or persistent way and you haven't put the matter right within a reasonable time of us asking you to;
- if we have information that your unlawful use of the Revolut app is harmful to us or our software, systems or hardware;
- if you engage in abuse of our products, services or customer support, or if your personal account is used for non-personal purposes;
- if we have asked you to repay money you owe us and you have not done so within a reasonable period of time;
- if you've been declared insolvent; or
- if we have to do so under any law, regulation, court order or local authority's (such as financial arbitrator, ombudsman or other) instructions.

Where permitted by applicable law, we will notify you via the app either before or immediately after suspending the account. We will also inform you of the reason for the suspension (where permitted by applicable law) and the estimated amount of time required to resolve the situation.

We may also decide to close your account, free of charge for you, by giving you prior notice. We will contact you through the Revolut app at least sixty (60) days before we do this.
Closing your account and ending the agreement may also end other agreements you have with us or through us. You can get more information through the Revolut app or by contacting us.

24. We can change these terms

We'll only change these terms and conditions for the following reasons:

- if we think it will make them easier to understand or more helpful to you;
- to reflect the way our business is run, particularly if the change is needed because of a change in the way any financial system or technology is provided;
- to reflect legal or regulatory requirements that apply to us;
- to reflect changes in the costs of running business, such as changes in the rate of inflation, interchange fees, network costs, taxes, levies, or industry-wide operational expenses; or
- because we are changing or introducing new services or products that affect our existing services or products covered by these terms and conditions.

Telling you about changes
If we add a new product or service that doesn't change the terms and conditions of your account, we may add the product or service immediately and let you know before you use it.
Otherwise, we'll give you at least 2 (two) months' notice by email and, in some cases, through the Revolut app, before we make any changes. Unless you notify us that you do not accept the proposed changes before their effective date, we will consider that you have accepted them.
If you want to reject the changes, you may terminate your contract with us free of charge. You can do this at any time before the date the changes would have taken effect.

25. Your refund rights for Revolut Card payments and SEPA direct debits

Revolut Card payments

You can ask us to refund an amount taken from your account if all of the following apply:

- you agreed that a payment could be taken, but didn't agree the actual amount of the payment;
- the amount taken is more than you reasonably expected in all the circumstances (including your spending pattern);
- the person you paid is in the EEA;
- you didn't authorise the payment directly with us;
- we and the person you paid did not give you any information about the payment during the four weeks before it was taken; and
- you ask us for a refund within eight weeks of the payment being taken from your account.

For example, you could get a refund if you gave a hotel permission to charge your Revolut Card for anything you take from the minibar, but the hotel has charged you more money than you could reasonably have expected at the time you gave them permission to do this.
We may ask you for more information to investigate the matter. We'll provide a refund, or tell you why we couldn't provide one, within 10 business days from the date you give us the information we ask for.

SEPA direct debits
If you have made a SEPA direct debit, the circumstances shown above do not need to apply. You will be entitled to an unconditional refund if you contact us within eight weeks of the date the payment was taken out of your account.

Reversing refunds
Where we have refunded an amount in relation to an allegedly unauthorised transaction and we subsequently establish that the transaction was authorised, or that you acted fraudulently or with intent or gross negligence, we are entitled to recover the sums initially refunded. We will tell you clearly, and in advance, how and when we will do this. Where the recovery follows a chargeback procedure, we will pursue that procedure with the relevant scheme and we will consider the process concluded, and notify you of the outcome, within 120 days from the date of the initial refund.

26. Are you responsible if something goes wrong with my account, my Revolut Card or the Revolut app?

We'll do as much as reasonably possible to make sure that our services are not interrupted and are accessible at a reasonable speed. However, we can't promise that this will always be the case or that the services will be free from faults. We also rely on some third parties to provide services to you, which can sometimes disrupt our services. We'll always do our best to solve any problems with our services, no matter what the cause.
If you have a Revolut Card, we will let you know about any changes to our system that will affect your ability to use the card.
We will not be responsible for losses resulting from us failing to meet our obligations for payments into and out of your account because:

- of a legal or regulatory requirement;
- unforeseeable events outside our control, which were unavoidable at the time;
- of criminal or any other illegal actions of third parties resulting in damage to you or any other person (unless specified in these terms and conditions directly); or
- of the blocking of your account when implementing legal requirements, including those in relation to anti-money laundering and counter-terrorist financing.

If you can't use your Revolut Card for any reason we will only be responsible to you for replacing the card.

We will only be responsible for foreseeable losses.
If we break the agreement, we will be responsible for any loss that we could have foreseen at the time we entered into the agreement, or for the loss that results from our fraud or gross negligence.
We won't be responsible to you for any of the following, whether direct or indirect, that arises in connection with these terms and conditions:

- loss of income or profit;
- loss of goodwill or damage to your reputation;
- loss of business contracts or opportunities;
- loss of anticipated savings; or
- consequential loss.

Nothing in these terms and conditions removes or limits our liability for death or personal injury resulting from our negligence or from fraud or fraudulent claims and statements.

27. How you might owe us money

You cannot borrow money on your account, unless you benefit from one of our credit products. Your account does not provide and overdraft facility.
If your balance becomes negative, because you do not have sufficient funds to cover fees or other amounts due to us related to your account, or for any other reason that is not a pre-approved credit product, you must top up your account with the required amount immediately.
If you fail to top up and bring your balance back to zero, or you owe us fees (other than third-party fees for making or receiving a payment) or any other amount, we may, at any time, without notice or demand take the amount you owe us from any amount we are due to pay to you including any other account you hold with us either solely or jointly. We call this our right of set off. We can also take the money from your account in the currency of the country you live in (your base currency) or the equivalent value from your account in another currency, until your negative balance has been fully repaid.
If you don't have enough money in your account to pay the fees or other amounts you owe us, we also might recover the amount in another way, as explained below, and will inform you before doing so:

1. taking the amount you owe us from your stored card;
2. taking other steps to recover the money you owe us, such as:

- instructing a debt collection agency to contact you;
- issuing legal proceedings for enforcement purposes;
- informing fraud prevention agencies where permitted, sell, transfer or assign the amount you owe us to a third party.

If we take any (or all) of these steps, we might charge you our reasonable costs for doing so. You may also be subject to additional fees for appointing a debt collection agency or our legal costs incurred.
If you are experiencing financial difficulties please reach out to us via in-app chat for support.
You may be responsible for paying taxes or costs that apply to payments you make or receive through your account and that we are not responsible for collecting from you. For example if you're a legal resident of the Republic of Ireland and you withdraw money through an ATM in the Republic of Ireland, we may collect the appropriate amount of stamp duty up to the legal maximum as required by the Irish Revenue Commissioners. In doing so, we may cause your balance to become negative (if necessary). So please make sure you check for yourself!

28. When you might be responsible for our losses

You may be responsible to us for certain losses
If you have broken these terms and conditions, and/or this has caused us to suffer a loss, the following will apply:

- you will be responsible for any foreseeable losses we suffer as a result of your action (we will try to keep the losses to a minimum); and
- you will also be responsible for any reasonable legal costs that arise as a result of our losses.

Your Account

We make the Basic Account available to you for personal use. You may not use it for business or commercial purposes.

You do not need to buy any other Revolut products or services to access the Basic Account.

Your Account is a "payment account with basic features", which we make available to you as required by Italian law. If you choose to open the Basic Account, you may not have access to other Revolut products and services in the Revolut app that are not connected to the Account's basic features, including personal loans. We will let you know in-app if we apply any of such restrictions.

You may only hold one Basic Account at any time.

We will provide you with a debit card for your Basic Account.

You must keep your Basic Account in credit at all times (i.e. avoid a negative balance) and have sufficient funds in your Basic Account to cover any payments.

We do not apply maintenance or transaction fees (euro) to your Basic Account however other fees and charges may apply (including for transactions in currencies other than euro). Please see the information sheet for Basic Account for more information.

If we refuse to open a Basic Account for you and you have any complaint in relation to this decision, please refer to the Complaints Policy on the Revolut website where you can find full details on our complaints handling procedure. Please, refer to the next article for more information on complaints.

Changes to your Basic Account

If your Basic Account is no longer suitable for your needs or you are no longer eligible to hold the Account you can contact us via the Revolut app. You will have two options:

- you can switch from your Basic Account (i.e. an account with basic features) to an ordinary Revolut account. For this option, the Personal Terms, the relevant information sheet and fee information document will form the legal agreement between you and us for your Revolut account and these Basic Account Terms will fall away; or

- you can fully close your Basic Account.

You will not have the option to fully close your Basic Account if you have entered into a separate agreement with us or another Revolut company that requires you to keep your personal account with us open until that other contract is terminated (e.g. a personal loan). In those circumstances, only the option to switch your Account will be available to you.

Closing your Basic Account

Subject to these terms, you can close your Basic Account by contacting us in the manner described in our Personal Terms.

We may unilaterally (i.e. without your consent) decide to close or suspend your Basic Account with immediate effect and without prior notice where one or more of the following conditions is met:

- you knowingly use your Basic Account for unlawful purposes;
- you gave us incorrect information when applying for the Basic Account, and if you gave us the right information, we would not have opened the Basic Account for you; and
- if so required for us to comply with any applicable law, code, regulation or court order.

We may unilaterally close or suspend your Basic Account by giving you two months' notice (unless it would be contrary to national security or public policy to give you such notice) where one or more of the following conditions is met:

- as of December 31 the Basic Account results overdrawn, unless you restore the funds within the notice period;
- as of December 31 there has been no transaction on your Basic Account for more than 24 months in a row;
