

CUSTOMER PRIVACY NOTICE FOR PERSONAL ACCOUNT USERS IN SINGAPORE

Effective date: 11 February 2025

Previous version: Available here

We're committed to protecting and respecting your privacy.

We will:

- always keep your personal data safe and private;
- never sell your personal data; and
- allow you to manage and review your marketing choices at any time.

1. About us

The Revolut group is made up of different companies. We'll let you know which Revolut company you have a relationship with when you first apply for or use a Revolut product or service in Singapore, which could be Revolut Technologies Singapore Pte. Ltd. or Revolut Securities Singapore Pte. Ltd. The Revolut company providing you with a product or service will be responsible for processing your personal data for that product or service. This Revolut company is known as the 'controller' of your personal data.

2. Why do I need to read this notice?

We collect your personal data when you use:

- our website at www.revolut.com/en-SG
- the Revolut app
- any of the services available to you through the Revolut app or website.

We may also collect your personal data from other people or companies. We explain how this can happen in more detail in the What personal data do you collect about me? section below.

When we say 'personal data', we mean information which:

- we know about you (for example, we know when you use your Revolut card to pay for things); and/or

- can be used to personally identify you (for example, a combination of your name and postal address).

This notice explains what information we collect, how we use it, and your rights over your personal data.

Specific Revolut products and services you use may have standalone privacy notices. Here are some examples:

- Revolut Chat Privacy Notice
- Revolut <18 Privacy Notice

These notices:

- give you more detail about how Revolut collects, uses and protects your personal data when you use specific Revolut products or services;
- will be provided to you through the Revolut app when you start using relevant Revolut products or services; and
- can be accessed at any time through the Revolut website (see here).

Sometimes, we may also provide you with 'just in time' privacy explanations in the Revolut app. When you use a new Revolut product or service for the first time:

- these explanations will help you to understand what specific personal data Revolut collects, uses or shares about you for that product or service; and
- where relevant, you will be prompted to review your in-app privacy preferences.

We may provide privacy notices and explanations in languages other than English. If there are any discrepancies between other language versions and the English language versions, the English language version is authoritative.

If you have concerns about how we use your personal data, you can contact dpo@revolut.com.

By using the Revolut app, you confirm that you have read and agree to us processing your personal data in the manner set out in this Privacy Notice. Please do not use the Revolut app if you do not agree to this Privacy Notice.

4. What is your legal basis for using my personal data?

We maintain physical, electronic and procedural safeguards that comply with applicable laws and regulations (including, the Personal Data Protection Act 2012 (No.

26 of 2012), which we call the 'PDPA' throughout this notice) to protect your personal data from unauthorised access.

We must have a legal basis (a valid legal reason) for using your personal data. Our legal basis will be one of the following:

- Keeping to our contracts and agreements with you

We need certain personal data to provide our services and cannot provide them without this personal data.

- Legal obligations

In some cases, we have a legal responsibility to collect and store your personal data (for example, under anti-money laundering laws we must hold certain information about our customers).

- Legitimate interests

We sometimes collect and use your personal data because we have a legitimate reason to use it and this is reasonable when balanced against your human rights and freedoms.

- Substantial public interest

Where we process your personal data, or your sensitive personal data (sometimes known as special category personal data), to adhere to government regulations or guidance, such as our obligation to prevent fraud or support you if you are, or become, a vulnerable customer.

- Consent

Where you've agreed to us collecting your personal data, or sensitive personal data, for example when you tick a box to indicate you're happy for us to use your personal data in a certain way.

We explain more about how we use your personal data in the How do you use my personal data? section below.

The How do you use my personal data? section below explains the lawful bases we rely on for various activities. The specific legal basis for processing your personal data, including sensitive personal data, depends on local regulations and the context of data collection. Whenever possible, we will provide a brief privacy explanation at the time of data collection to clarify the specific lawful basis for collecting and using your personal data.

5. How do you use my personal data?

Explore the ways in which we may use your personal data, and our legal bases for doing so, using this table:

What we use your personal data for	Our legal basis for using your personal data
Checking and confirming your identity Whenever you sign up with Revolut, we'll use your personal data to check your identity or the identity of joint account holders (as part of our KYC process). This may include facial scan data extracted from any photo or video you submit (known as 'biometric data'). We do this to keep you and other Revolut customers safe by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • confirming you are who you say you are • preventing fraudsters getting access to your account • making sure you're not somebody we've previously told we cannot provide services to We will also check your identity at other times. For example, if you register a new device to access your Revolut account or try to chat with customer support while not logged in, we'll need to verify that it's really you. Sometimes, you can choose to add extra protection to your Revolut account using biometric data checks. 6. Do you make automated decisions about me?

Depending on the Revolut products or services you use, we may make automated decisions about you. Some of these decisions are made using artificial intelligence without any initial human input.

We may also use technology to evaluate your personal circumstances and other factors to predict risks or outcomes. This is sometimes known as profiling. We do this for the efficient running of our services and to ensure decisions are fair, consistent and based on the right information.

If we make an automated decision or create a profile about you that significantly affects you, you have the right to request a manual review of that decision by a person. You can also share your perspective and challenge the outcome. For more information, please see the What are my rights? section below.

For example, we may make automated decisions about you that relate to:

Opening accounts:

- KYC, anti-money laundering and sanctions checks
- identity and address checks

Detecting fraud:

- monitoring your account to detect fraud and financial crime

Our legal basis is one or more of the following:

- keeping to contracts and agreements between you and us
- legal obligations
- legitimate interests (to develop and improve how we deal with financial crime and meet our legal responsibilities)
- consent (where we are required to collect your consent by law).

7. How do you use my personal data for marketing?

If you sign up to our services, and where Singaporean laws allow, we'll assume you want to be contacted by post, push notification, email, phone call and text message with information about Revolut products, services, offers and promotions. Where Singaporean laws require us to get your consent to send marketing communications, we'll do so in advance.

We use your personal data to personalise marketing messages about our products and services so they are more relevant and interesting to you (where allowed by law). This may include analysing how you use our services and your transactions.

You can object to profiling for direct marketing purposes. You can also adjust your preferences or tell us you don't want to receive direct marketing at any time. Just use the privacy settings in the Revolut app or tap the unsubscribe links in any marketing message we send you or, if we call you, ask us not to contact you again.

If you do not want to receive personalised marketing messages, and opt out from receiving them, you will not receive any marketing communications. However, you may still receive generic information about our products and services in the Revolut app.

We won't pass your details on to any organisations outside the Revolut group of companies for their marketing purposes without your permission. You can find out more in the Do you share my personal data with anyone else? section below.

Our legal basis is:

- consent (where we are required by law to collect your consent)
- legitimate interests (to send you marketing and to provide information relevant to your interests)

8. What are my rights?

Your right	What it means
You have the right to be told how we use your personal data	We provide this privacy notice to explain how we use your personal data.
You have the right to ask us for a copy of your personal data	If you ask, we'll provide a copy of the personal data we hold about you. We can't give you any personal data about other people, personal data which is linked to an ongoing criminal or fraud investigation, or personal data which is linked to settlement negotiations with you. We also won't provide you with any communication we've had with our legal advisers.

You can ask us to correct your personal data if you think it's wrong	You can have incomplete or inaccurate personal data corrected. Before we update your file, we may need to check the accuracy of the new personal data you have provided.
You can ask us to delete your personal data	You can ask us to delete your personal data if: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✓ there's no good reason for us to continue using it ✓ you gave us consent (permission) to use your personal data and you have now withdrawn that consent ✓ you have objected to us using your personal data ✓ we have used your personal data unlawfully ✓ the law requires us to delete your personal data Just to let you know, we may not be able to agree to your request. As a regulated financial services provider, we must keep certain customer personal data even when you ask us to delete it (we've explained this in more detail below). If you've closed your Revolut account, we may not be able to delete your entire file because these regulatory responsibilities take priority. We'll always let you know if we can't delete your personal data. Under the PDPA, Revolut can retain personal data about you, and your Revolut transactions, until the retention of your personal data is no longer necessary for any business or legal purpose (we've explained this in more detail below).

	In particular, we are required, as an entity subject to the regulatory supervision of the Monetary Authority of Singapore to retain data, documents and information we collect as part of complying with our anti-money laundering and countering the financing of terrorism legal obligations (which may include your personal data, documents and information) for at least five years after the termination of business relations with you or the completion of transactions you undertake with or through us.
You can object to us processing your personal data for marketing purposes	You can tell us to stop using your personal data, including profiling you, for marketing.
You can object to us processing other personal data (if we're using it for legitimate interests)	If our legal basis for using your personal data is 'legitimate interests' and you disagree with us using it, you can object. However, if there is an overriding reason why we need to use your personal data, we will not accept your request. If you object to us using personal data which we need to provide our services, we may need to close your account as we won't be able to provide the services.
You can ask us to restrict how we use your personal data	You can ask us to suspend using your personal data if: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✓ you want us to investigate whether it's accurate ✓ our use of your personal data is unlawful but you don't want us to delete it ✓ we no longer need your personal data, but you want us to continue holding it for you in connection with a legal claim

	✓ you have objected to us using your personal data (see above), but we need to check whether we have an overriding reason to use it
You can ask us to transfer personal data to you or another company	If we can, and are allowed to do so under regulatory requirements, we'll provide your personal data in a structured, commonly used, machine-readable format.
You can withdraw your permission	If you've given us the consent we need to use your personal data, you can withdraw it at any time (for example, by changing your privacy settings in the Revolut app or sending an email to dpo@revolut.com). (Please note, it will have been lawful for us to use the personal data up to the point you withdraw your permission.)
You can ask us to carry out a human review of an automated decision we make about you	If we make an automated decision about you that significantly affects you, you can ask us to carry out a manual review of this decision.

Your ability to exercise these rights will depend on a number of factors. Sometimes, we won't be able to agree to your request (for example, if we have a legitimate reason for not doing so or the right does not apply to the particular information we hold about you).

9. How do I exercise my rights?

To exercise any of your rights set out in the previous section, you can send us an email at dpo@revolut.com.

For security reasons, we can't deal with your request if we're not sure of your identity, so we may ask you for proof of ID.

If a third party exercises one of these rights on your behalf, we may need to ask for proof that they've been authorised to act on your behalf.

When you exercise one of your rights, or update your privacy settings in the Revolut app, it may take us up to one month to respond or implement your changes.

Revolut will usually not charge you a fee when you exercise your rights. However, we're allowed by law to charge a reasonable fee or refuse to act on your request if it is manifestly unfounded or excessive.

If you're unhappy with how we've handled your request you can complain to the Personal Data Protection Commission ('PDPC').

10. Do you share my personal data with anyone else?

Revolut group companies

We share your personal data within the Revolut group of companies to:

- provide you with the best service
- protect you, other customers and our systems from fraud or harmful behaviour
- facilitate you quickly signing up to use other Revolut products or services
- improve existing, or develop new, products or services
- send you information about Revolut products and services we think you'll be interested in hearing about

Other Revolut customers

We'll ask you to let us sync your mobile phone contacts. This will help you to identify which of your trusted mobile phone contacts are Revolut customers. Your 'trusted contacts' will also be able to see if you're a Revolut customer through our in-app discoverability settings.

In-app discoverability gives you access to Revolut features like requesting money from your friends, splitting bills, group savings, paying other Revolut customers or chatting to your 'trusted contacts'.

We use technological safeguards to ensure a 'trusted contact' is somebody you already know and who knows you (for example, you have each other saved in each other's mobile phone contacts lists or have already received or given money through a peer-to-peer payment with them).

Both you and your trusted contact must have synced your mobile phone contacts lists with Revolut to be viewable to each other in the Revolut app.

If you have synced your mobile phone contacts, we show basic details about you in the Revolut app to your trusted contacts who are also Revolut customers (for example, your name (as saved in your friend's contacts list), mobile phone number, Revtag, Revolut membership plan, and Revolut profile photo (if you have one)).

You can, of course, choose not to sync your contacts list with Revolut. This means that you won't be able to identify which of your mobile phone contacts are Revolut customers.

You can also change your discoverability preferences through the privacy settings in the Revolut app.

Other Revolut customers will be able to search for you through the Revolut app using your Revtag. When they input your Revtag, they will be able to see your name and profile photo (if you have one). You can turn off being discoverable by your Revtag through the privacy settings in the Revolut app.

People or companies that you transfer money to

Where you make a payment from your Revolut account, we'll provide the recipient with your details alongside your payment (for example, your name and IBAN). This is because, like all payment institutions, we're required by law to include certain information with payments.

People or companies that transfer money to you

When you receive a payment to your Revolut account, we'll provide the payer with your details (for example, your name and IBAN). This is necessary to confirm that the payment has been made to the correct account.

Suppliers

The table below explains which suppliers we normally share your personal data with:

Type of supplier	Why we share your personal data
Suppliers who provide us with IT, artificial intelligence, payment and delivery services	To help us provide our services to you
Our banking and financial services partners and payments networks, including Visa and Mastercard	To help us provide our services to you. This includes banking and lending partners, banking intermediaries and international payment service providers
Identity verification and KYC service providers	To help us verify your identity so we can provide services to you
Card manufacturing, personalisation and delivery companies	To create and deliver your personalised Revolut card
Analytics providers and search information providers	To help us improve our website or the Revolut app
Customer-service providers, survey providers and developers	To help us to provide our services to you
Communications services providers	To help us send you emails, push notifications and text messages
Debt collection agencies	To manage and recover debts that you owe or may end up owing

Partners who help to provide our services

We may share your personal data with our partners to:

- provide certain services you've asked us for (for example, when we offer insurance as part of our membership plans)
- make sure you or our partner gets any reward that has been promised (for example, if you make a purchase with a partner, we will share limited information about you to make sure you get the right cashback and/or the partner gets a promised commission payment)

We'll only share your personal data in this way if you've made a qualifying purchase, asked for the relevant service or if it's provided as part of our membership plans. From time to time, we may work with other partners to offer you co-branded services or promotional offers, and we'll share some of your personal data with those partners. We will always make sure you understand how we and our partners process your personal data for these purposes.

Other financial institutions and Revolut customers

We may share your personal data with other financial institutions, or Revolut customers, if you ask us to. For example, if you have activated Open Banking through an account you hold with another financial institution and given them permission, we'll share data from your Revolut account (such as your balance, payment transactions, account number, sort code and contact details) with that financial institution.

We may also share your personal data with other financial institutions, or Revolut customers, where you do not ask us to. For example, if a payment is made to your account by mistake, we can share your information with the financial institution, or Revolut customer, the payment came from. This will help the payer and the other financial institution to try and get the payment back themselves.

Joint account holders

If you have a joint account with us, we will share account and transaction information between joint account holders. For example, your co-account holder will see any transactions you make from your joint account.

Other third parties

We may share your personal data with other third parties where necessary to facilitate you receiving payments to your Revolut account.

For legal reasons

We also share your personal data with other financial institutions, financial services companies, insurance providers, government authorities, law enforcement authorities, tax authorities, companies and fraud prevention agencies to check your identity, investigate or protect against suspected fraud, keep to tax laws, anti-money laundering laws, or any other laws and confirm that you're eligible to use our products and services.

If fraud is detected, you could be refused certain services by Revolut or other companies.

We may also need to share your personal data with other third party organisations or authorities:

- if we have to do so under any law or regulation
- if we sell our business or credit portfolio
- in connection with criminal or fraud investigations
- to enforce our rights (and those of customers or others)
- in connection with legal claims

Social media and advertising companies

When we use social media for marketing purposes, your personal data (limited to only your name, email address and app events) may be shared with the social media platforms so that they can check if you also hold an account with them. If you do, we may ask the social media provider to:

- help us to understand and measure the effectiveness of our online advertising
- use your personal data to send our adverts to you, because we think that you might be interested in a new Revolut product or service
- not send you our adverts, because the marketing relates to a service that you already use
- send our adverts to people who have a similar profile to you (for example, if one of our services is particularly useful to people with similar interests to the ones on your social media profile, we may ask our advertising partner or social media partner to send our adverts for that service to those people)

An example of how we may use social media for marketing purposes is through Facebook's 'Custom Audience' tool. Read more about these terms.

We may share your personal data with our advertising partners in the ways described above, but the personal data is hashed before we send it, and the advertising partner we share it with is only allowed to use that hashed personal data in the ways described above.

Our legal basis is:

- legitimate interests (to ensure Revolut's advertising is as effective as possible)

You can contact us at any time by emailing dpo@revolut.com, if you don't want us to share your personal data for advertising purposes. You can also use the privacy settings in the Revolut app to opt out from having your personal data shared in this way.

Remember you can also manage your marketing preferences directly with any social media provider that you have an account with.

Where you ask us to share your personal data

Where you direct us to share your personal data with a third party, we may do so. For example, you may authorise third parties to act on your behalf (such as a lawyer, accountant or family member or guardian under a power of attorney). We may need to ask for proof that a third party has been validly authorised to act on your behalf.

11. Will my personal data go outside Singapore?

As we provide an international service, we may need to transfer your personal data outside Singapore to help us provide our services.

For example, if you make an international payment, we'll send funds to banks outside Singapore. We might also send your personal data outside Singapore to keep to global legal and regulatory requirements, and to provide ongoing support services.

We may send your personal data outside of Singapore to:

- keep to global legal and regulatory requirements
- provide ongoing support services
- fraud prevention agencies, regulators or law enforcement authorities
- enable us to provide you with products or services you have requested

If we transfer your personal data to another country that doesn't offer a standard of data protection equivalent to Singapore, we will make sure that your personal data is sufficiently protected. For example, we'll make sure that a contract with strict data protection safeguards is in place before we transfer your personal data. In some cases, you may be entitled to ask us for a copy of this contract.

If you would like more information, please contact us by sending an email to dpo@revolut.com.

12. How do you protect my personal data?

We recognise the importance of protecting and managing your personal data. Any personal data we process will be treated with the utmost care and security. This section sets out some of the security measures we have in place.

We use a variety of organisational and technical measures to:

- maintain the confidentiality, availability and integrity of your personal data
- make sure your personal data is not improperly used or disclosed

We have detailed information security and data protection policies which our employees are required to follow when they handle your personal data. Our employees receive data protection and information security training. Personal data is stored on secure computer systems with access management controls in place to limit physical, system and information access to only authorised employees.

Revolut has strict policies in place that control how we share your personal data with other companies. Before sharing personal data with any company, we thoroughly:

- vet the company in advance
- assess the security controls the company has in place to protect your personal data

While we take all reasonable steps to ensure that your personal data will be kept secure from unauthorised access, we cannot guarantee it will be secure during transmission by you to our app, our website or other services we may provide. We use HTTPS (HTTP Secure), where the communication protocol is encrypted through Transport Layer Security for secure communication over networks, for all our app, web and payment-processing services.

You are responsible for keeping your Revolut account secure by keeping your passwords, PINs, and one-time passcodes private. Do not share this information with anyone, as it may allow them access to your Revolut account and personal data. Remember, Revolut will never ask you for these details through phone calls, emails, or texts.

When you use our public services, which includes our social network accounts and the Revolut Community forum, do not share any personal data that you don't want to be seen, collected or used by other customers, as this personal data will become publicly available.

13. How long will you keep my personal data for?

We will keep your personal data:

- for as long as necessary to achieve the original purpose we collected it for
- in line with relevant laws

We are required to keep certain personal data for specified time periods by KYC, anti-money laundering, banking and e-money laws. These time periods vary from country to country.

As a general guideline, we'll keep your personal data for no more than 5 years after our business relationship ends.

Revolut has detailed policies and procedures in place to ensure we comply with these requirements.

We may keep your personal data for a longer time period because of a potential or ongoing court claim, or for another legal reason.

14. How will you keep me updated about how you use my personal data?

If we change the way we use your personal data, we'll update this notice and, if appropriate, let you know by email, through the Revolut app or through our website.

15. Do you use cookies?

We use cookies to analyse how you use our website. Please read our Cookies Policy for more information about cookies.

We also use pixels or web beacons in the direct marketing emails that we send to you. These pixels track whether our email was delivered and opened, and whether links within the email were clicked. They also allow us to collect information such as your IP address, browser, email client type and other similar details. We use this information to measure the performance of our email campaigns, and for analytics. You can control whether you receive direct marketing emails through the privacy settings in the Revolut app.
