Revolut Business product features and apps

You will be charged for “active” team members’ use of the below Revolut Business product features and apps. A team member is “active” if the team member starts using a product feature or app (please refer below for the more specific definitions for each app below). Account holders will be charged fees for each “active” team member’s use of a product feature or app at the start of the month in line with our billing cycle (see the “Billing Cycle” section below). If you do not want your team members to be “active” users of certain product features or apps, you can toggle off their access in the Revolut Business app at any time and we won’t charge you for their use of the relevant product features or apps the following month as long as you toggle off their access before the start of your next monthly billing cycle.

Billing Cycle

You will be billed in advance of the month or year, depending on the plan you sign up to purchase. Your allowances will reset on the first day of the billing month. If you choose to move plan mid-billing cycle, your subscription will start again and your allowances will be reset according to your new plan immediately.

Fees for team members' use of Revolut Business product features and apps will be charged at the start of the month for "active" team members' use of those product features and apps.

Exchange

The below "Exchange" section of this fees page applies from 14 August 2021. For a previous version of this section of this fees page, please see further below.

Whenever you make an exchange using Revolut, we use simple and transparent pricing:

- You get the real exchange rate;
- We add a small, transparent exchange fee (if one applies); and
- You see the total cost, with no hidden mark-ups or surprises.

This pricing applies to exchanges in money currencies, cryptocurrencies. We've explained it in more detail below.

The only time you will pay more than this is if you exceed your free FX allowance for your plan. Please see the "Free Allowances" section of your plan's fees page to understand what level of exchange you can make per month without exceeding your free FX allowance. If you do exceed your free FX allowance, you will be charged a custom fee indicated in your plan page in the app.

In all cases, the rate, and any fee (if one applies), will be shown to you in the app, along with the total cost, before you make an exchange. You'll be able to take a look, compare it against our competitors, and decide if you like the overall price or not - we think you will like it.

Exchanging money currencies

Whenever you make a money currency exchange using Revolut, we use our simple and transparent pricing formula of rate + fee = total cost.

We use the real exchange rate for money currency exchanges. The “real” rate can mean different things to different people (and can be given different names, like the “interbank” rate). But the truth is money currencies are exchanged by many different players on many different markets and there’s no one rate to rule them all. Here at Revolut, the real exchange rate means the buy and sell rates we have determined based on the foreign exchange market data feeds we consume from a range of different independent sources. This is a variable exchange rate (which means it is constantly changing). We think you’ll really like it.

We charge a single fee for money currency conversions. This is a variable fee, which means it changes depending on the parameters of your exchange (like what you are exchanging and when). You can see what this fee is, and how it is made up, in the app. It covers the following things:

- Exchanging an uncommon currency. This covers the costs and risks to us of dealing in less common or restricted currencies.
- Exchanging when the market is closed. This covers the uncertainty of making an exchange while the market is closed (which is why our fee can be smaller during business hours).
- Keeping the lights on at Revolut HQ, and other things that keep our business going. This helps us provide our services to you and invest in making our product better for you.

The below “Exchange” section of this fees page applies until 14 August 2021:

Whenever you make a currency exchange in the Revolut app or Revolut Dashboard, we'll use an exchange rate based on our market rate, which is based on foreign-exchange market rates. There is more information about our exchange rate in our Business Terms.

For certain conversions we apply an extra percentage-based fee, which may change according to when and how frequently the currencies are traded. These fees are set out in the table below.

We charge a higher fee outside foreign-exchange-market hours because less currency is traded during these times. Foreign-exchange-market hours are all hours except midnight on Friday to midnight on Sunday in London.

FEES DURING FOREIGN EXCHANGE MARKET HOURS

THB and UAH

- 1.0%

USD, GBP, EUR, AUD, CAD, NZD, CHF, JPY, SEK, HKD, NOK, SGD, DKK, PLN AND CZK

- No fee

Any other currency not listed above

- No fee

FEES OUTSIDE FOREIGN EXCHANGE MARKET HOURS

USD, GBP, EUR, AUD, CAD, NZD, CHF, JPY, SEK, HKD, NOK, SGD, DKK, PLN AND CZK

- 0.5%

Any other currency not listed above

- 1.0%

The highest rate relevant to your conversion will apply. For example, for a conversion between USD and THB during foreign exchange market hours, we will apply the mark-up that applies to THB (1%), not the mark-up for USD (0%).

Exchanging cryptocurrencies

Whenever you make a cryptocurrency exchange using Revolut Business, we use our simple and transparent pricing formula of rate + fee = total cost.

The exchange rate we use for crypto is set out in our Cryptocurrency Terms. It is set by us, based on the rate that the crypto exchanges offer us, and is a variable exchange rate (which means it is constantly changing). You can always see the current crypto exchange rate in the Revolut Business app.

We charge a single, fixed fee for crypto conversions. This fee is 1.99% for the free plan and 0.99% for paid plans. We don't charge you any other fees for this service.

As always, we will show you the rate, the fee, and the total cost in the Revolut Business app before you make any exchange.

Costs per transaction for inbound payments

Each payment received as a result of the card transaction or performed via alternative payment method will have a fee made of two parts, one variable and one fixed. The variable part is a percent from the payment amount ("Variable fee") and depends on the type of the card from which the payment is received. The value of the fixed part ("Flat fee") depends on the main currency of your Business account and will be charged in the payment settlement currency. Payments received through the following payment methods are charged according to the card associated with the payment, following the same logic as online payments by card:

- ApplePay;
- GooglePay;
- Revolut.Me;
- Payment Links.

Below you have a breakdown of the Variable fees and the Flat fee, per currency.

Merchant Chargebacks

If one of your customers disputes a transaction, they can raise a 'chargeback' request. For example, they may do so if they allege a transaction was fraudulent or a product was counterfeit or not delivered. If the chargeback is successful, the transaction will be refunded, but you'll be charged a chargeback fee. The chargeback fee depends on the currency of the original transaction, as set out below. You may be able to challenge the chargeback request.

There is more information about disputes and chargebacks in our Payment Processing Services Agreement.

The amount of the chargeback fee depends on the currency of the original transaction. If you provide evidence that the transaction has been legitimate and you delivered products or services according to the agreement with the customer, the issuer bank might revert the chargeback and you will also get the chargeback fee reverted back to your Merchant account.
