

CUSTOMER PRIVACY POLICY

Effective date: March 24, 2025

Previous versions: Available here

We're committed to protecting and respecting your privacy.

We will:

- always keep your personal data safe and private
- never sell your personal data
- allow you to manage and review your marketing choices at any time

1. About us

The Revolut group is made up of different companies. Our technology company, Revolut Technologies Inc., offers a platform through which customers may access a variety of financial products and services in the United States offered by our affiliates, licensed banks, and trust companies. Our broker-dealer company, Revolut Securities Inc., offers trading products. Our Investment Advisory, Revolut Wealth Inc., offers automated investing. Each of these Revolut products is available via the Revolut App and the Revolut Website Application.

This Privacy Policy covers Revolut Technologies Inc., Revolut Securities Inc., and Revolut Wealth Inc.'s services in the United States.

2. Why do I need to read this policy?

We collect your personal data when you use:

- our website at www.revolut.com/en-US/
- any of our Revolut apps
- any of the services available to you through our apps or website

We may also collect your personal data from other people or companies. We explain how this can happen in more detail in the What personal data do you collect about me? section below.

When we say 'personal data', we mean information which:

- we know about you (for example, we know when you use your Revolut card to pay for things)
- can be used to personally identify you (for example, a combination of your name and postal address)

This policy explains what information we collect, how we use it, and your rights over your personal data.

We may provide this policy in languages other than English. If there are any discrepancies between other language versions and the English language version, the English language version will prevail.

If you have concerns about how we use your personal data, you can contact dpo@revolut.com.

3. What personal data do you collect about me?

The table below explains what personal data we collect and use.

If you apply for our credit products, when you allow us, we may use this information for credit checks. Sometimes other Revolut customers may give us information about you. For example, a Revolut customer may tell us that you have behaved inappropriately and provide us with evidence to support their claim.
Information from social media	Occasionally, we'll use publicly available information about you from selected social media websites or apps to carry out enhanced due diligence checks. Publicly available information from social media websites or apps may also be provided to us when we conduct general searches on you (for example, to comply with our anti-money laundering or sanctions screening obligations).
Information from publicly available sources	We collect information and contact details from publicly available sources, such as media stories, online registers or directories, and websites for enhanced due diligence checks, security searches, and KYC purposes.

4. What is your legal basis for using my personal data?

We must have a legal basis (a valid legal reason) for using your personal data. Our legal basis will be one of the following:

- Keeping to our contracts and agreements with you

We need certain personal data to provide our services and cannot provide them without this personal data.

- Legal obligations

In some cases, we have a legal responsibility to collect and store your personal data (for example, under anti-money laundering laws we must hold certain information about our customers).

- Legitimate interests

We sometimes collect and use your personal data because we have a legitimate reason to use it and this is reasonable when balanced against your human rights and freedoms.

- Substantial public interest

Where we process your personal data, or your sensitive personal data (sometimes known as special category personal data), to adhere to government regulations or guidance, such as our obligation to prevent fraud.

- Consent

Where you've agreed to us collecting your personal data, or sensitive personal data, for example when you tick a box to indicate you're happy for us to use your personal data in a certain way.

We explain more about how we use your personal data in the How do you use my personal data? section below.

The How do you use my personal data? section below explains the lawful bases we rely on for various activities. The specific legal basis for processing your personal data, including sensitive personal data, depends on local regulations and the context of data collection. Whenever possible, we will provide a brief privacy explanation at the time of data collection to clarify the specific lawful basis for collecting and using your personal data.

5. How do you use my personal data?

Explore the ways in which we may use your personal data, and our legal basis for doing so, using this table:

What we use your personal data for	Our legal basis for using your personal data
Checking and confirming your identity Whenever you sign up with Revolut, we'll use your personal data to check your identity or the identity of joint account holders (as part of our KYC process). This may include facial scan data extracted from any photo or video you submit (known as 'biometric data'). We do this to keep you and other Revolut customers safe by: <ul style="list-style-type: none">- confirming you are who you say you are- preventing fraudsters getting access to your account- making sure you're not somebody we've previously told we cannot provide services to We will also check your identity at other times. 6. Do you make automated decisions about me?

Depending on the Revolut products or services you use, we may make automated decisions about you. Some of these decisions are made using artificial intelligence without any initial human input.

We may also use technology to evaluate your personal circumstances and other factors to predict risks or outcomes. This is sometimes known as profiling. We do this for the efficient running of our services and to ensure decisions are fair, consistent and based on the right information.

If we make an automated decision or create a profile about you that significantly affects you, you have the right to request a manual review of that decision by a person. You can also share your perspective and challenge the outcome. For more information, please see the What are my rights? section below.

For example, we may make automated decisions about you that relate to:

Determining credit eligibility:

- assessing whether you are eligible to apply for a credit product

Approving credit applications:

- credit and affordability checks to see whether we can accept your credit application
- setting credit limits

Monitoring credit agreements:

- assessing how you're repaying any credit product you hold with us
- amending your credit limit
- terminating your credit agreement

Opening accounts:

- KYC, anti-money laundering and sanctions checks
- identity and address checks

Detecting fraud:

- monitoring your account to detect fraud and financial crime

Our legal basis is one or more of the following:

- keeping to contracts and agreements between you and us
- legal obligations
- legitimate interests (to develop and improve how we deal with financial crime and meet our legal responsibilities)
- consent (where we are required to collect your consent by law)

7. Do you run credit checks on me?

We, and our lending partners, use credit reference agencies (or other providers of credit information in some countries) to run credit checks if you apply (or tell us you want to apply) for a credit product through Revolut.

If you give us access to other accounts you hold with other financial institutions, where you agree, we'll use available information to carry out credit checks on you.

We'll also share your personal data with credit reference agencies (or other providers of credit information) to:

- confirm details you have provided when you apply for products or services
- make an assessment about whether to accept your credit application

- determine an appropriate credit limit for you

When you enter into a credit agreement with us, we may continue sharing information with credit reference agencies or other providers of credit information (for example, information about your repayments and whether you repay in full or on time).

The personal data we share with, and receive from, credit reference agencies (or other providers of credit information) when you apply for or use a Revolut credit product will vary depending on the country you live in. We'll provide full details when you apply for a Revolut credit product.

Our legal basis is one or more of the following:

- consent (where we are required to collect your consent by law)
- legal obligations
- keeping to contracts and agreements between you and us (where you take out a credit product with us)

8. How do you use my personal data for marketing?

If you sign up to our services, and where applicable laws allow, we'll assume you want to be contacted by mail, push notification, email, phone call, and text message with information about Revolut products, services, offers and promotions. Where applicable laws require us to get your consent to send marketing communications, we'll do so in advance.

We use your personal data to personalize marketing messages about our products and services so they are more relevant and interesting to you (where allowed by law). This may include analyzing how you use our services and your transactions.

You can object to profiling for direct marketing purposes. You can also adjust your preferences or tell us you don't want to receive direct marketing. Just use the privacy settings in the relevant Revolut app or tap the unsubscribe links in any marketing message we send you, or, if we call you, ask us not to contact you again.

If you do not want to receive personalised marketing messages, and opt out from receiving them, you will not receive any marketing communications. However, you may still receive generic information about our products and services in our apps.

We won't pass your details on to any organizations outside the Revolut group of companies for their marketing purposes without your permission. You can find out more in the Do you share my personal data with anyone else? section below.

Our legal basis is:

- consent (where we are required by law to collect your consent)
- legitimate interests (to send you marketing and to provide information relevant to your interests).

9. What are my rights?

Your right	What it means
You have the right to be told how we use your personal data	We provide this privacy policy to explain how we use your personal data.
You have the right to ask us for a copy of your personal data	If you ask, we'll provide a copy of the personal data we hold about you. We can't give you any personal data about other people, personal data which is linked to an ongoing criminal or fraud investigation, or personal data which is linked to settlement negotiations with you. We also won't provide you with any communication we've had with our legal advisers.
You can ask us to correct your personal data if you think it's wrong	You can have incomplete or inaccurate personal data corrected. Before we update your file, we may need to check the accuracy of the new personal data you have provided.

You can ask us to delete your personal data	You can ask us to delete your personal data if: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✓ there's no good reason for us to continue using it ✓ you gave us consent (permission) to use your personal data and you have now withdrawn that consent ✓ you have objected to us using your personal data ✓ we have used your personal data unlawfully ✓ the law requires us to delete your personal data Just to let you know, we may not be able to agree to your request. As a regulated financial services provider, we must keep certain customer personal data even when you ask us to delete it (we've explained this in more detail below). If you've closed your Revolut account, we may not be able to delete your entire file because these regulatory and legal responsibilities take priority. We'll always let you know if we can't delete your personal data.
You can object to us processing your personal data for marketing purposes	You can tell us to stop using your personal data, including profiling you, for marketing.
You can object to us processing other personal data (if we're using it for legitimate interests)	If our legal basis for using your personal data is 'legitimate interests' and you disagree with us using it, you can object. However, if there is an overriding reason why we need to use your personal data, we will not accept your request. If you object to us using personal data which we need to provide our services, we may need to close your account as we won't be able to provide the services.
You can ask us to restrict how we use your personal data	You can ask us to suspend using your personal data if: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✓ you want us to investigate whether it's accurate ✓ our use of your personal data is unlawful but you don't want us to delete it ✓ we no longer need your personal data, but you want us to continue holding it for you in connection with a legal claim ✓ you have objected to us using your personal data (see above), but we need to check whether we have an overriding reason to use it.
You can ask us to transfer personal data to you or another company	If we can, and are allowed to do so under regulatory requirements, we'll provide your personal data in a structured, commonly used, machine-readable format.
You can withdraw your permission	If you've given us the consent we need to use your personal data, you can withdraw it at any time (for example, by changing your privacy settings in the relevant Revolut app or sending an email to dpo@revolut.com). (Please note, it will have been lawful for us to use the personal data up to the point you withdraw your permission.)

You can ask us to carry out a human review of an automated decision we make about you	If we make an automated decision about you that significantly affects you, you can ask us to carry out a manual review of this decision.

Your ability to exercise these rights will depend on a number of factors. Sometimes, we won't be able to agree to your request (for example, if we have a legitimate reason for not doing so or the right does not apply to the particular information we hold about you).

10. How do I exercise my rights?

To exercise any of your rights set out in the previous section, you can send us an email at dpo@revolut.com.

For security reasons, we can't deal with your request if we're not sure of your identity, so we may ask you for proof of ID.

If a third party exercises one of these rights on your behalf, we may need to ask for proof that they've been authorized to act on your behalf.

When you exercise one of your rights, or update your privacy settings in the Revolut app, it may take us up to one month to respond or implement your changes.

Revolut will usually not charge you a fee when you exercise your rights. However, we're allowed by law to charge a reasonable fee or refuse to act on your request if it is manifestly unfounded or excessive.

Revolut will not discriminate against you in any way because you exercise any rights conferred by this Privacy Policy.

If you are unhappy with how we have handled your personal information you can file a formal complaint by sending us an email to complaints.us@revolut.com.

11. Do you share my personal data with anyone else?

Revolut group companies

We share your personal data within the Revolut group of companies to:

- provide you with the best service
- protect you, other customers and our systems from fraud or harmful behaviour
- facilitate you quickly signing up to use other Revolut products or services
- improve existing, or develop new, products or services
- send you information about Revolut products and services we think you'll be interested in hearing about.

Other Revolut customers

We'll ask you to let us sync your mobile phone contacts. This will help you to identify which of your trusted mobile phone contacts are Revolut customers. Your 'trusted contacts' will also be able to see if you're a Revolut customer through our in-app discoverability settings.

In-app discoverability gives you access to Revolut features like requesting money from your friends, splitting bills, group savings, paying other Revolut customers or chatting to your 'trusted contacts'.

We use technological safeguards to ensure a 'trusted contact' is somebody you already know and who knows you (for example, you have each other saved in each other's mobile phone contacts lists or have already received or given money through a peer-to-peer payment with them).

Both you and your trusted contact must have synced your mobile phone contacts lists with Revolut to be viewable to each other in the relevant Revolut app.

If you have synced your mobile phone contacts, we only show basic details about you in the relevant Revolut app to your trusted contacts who are also Revolut customers (for example, your name (as saved in your friend's contacts list), mobile phone number, Revtag, Revolut membership plan and Revolut profile photo (if you have one)).

You can, of course, choose not to sync your contacts list with Revolut. This means that you won't be able to identify which of your mobile phone contacts are Revolut customers.

You can also change your discoverability preferences through the privacy settings in the relevant Revolut app.

Other Revolut customers will be able to search for you through the relevant Revolut app using your Revtag. When they input your Revtag, they will be able to see your name and profile photo (if you have one). You can turn off being discoverable by your Revtag through the privacy settings in the relevant Revolut app.

People or companies that you transfer money to

Where you make a payment from your Revolut account, we'll provide the recipient with your details alongside your payment (for example, your name and IBAN). This is because, like all payment institutions, we're required by law to include certain information with payments.

People or companies that transfer money to you

When you receive a payment to your Revolut account, we'll provide the payer with your details (for example, your name and IBAN). This is necessary to confirm that the payment has been made to the correct account.

Suppliers

The table below explains which suppliers we normally share your personal data with:

Type of supplier	Why we share your personal data
Suppliers who provide us with IT, artificial intelligence, payment and delivery services	To help us provide our services to you
Our banking and financial services partners and payments networks, including Visa and Mastercard	To help us provide our services to you. This includes banking and lending partners, banking intermediaries and international payment service providers
Identity verification and KYC service providers	To help us verify your identity so we can provide services to you
Card manufacturing, personalisation and delivery companies	To create and deliver your personalised Revolut card
Analytics providers and search information providers	To help us improve our website or app
Customer-service providers, survey providers and developers	To help us to provide our services to you
Communications services providers	To help us send you emails, push notifications and text messages
Debt collection agencies	To manage and recover debts that you owe or may end up owing (including if you have a Revolut credit product)

Partners who help to provide our services

We may share your personal data with our partners to provide certain services you've asked us for, as well as to make sure you, or our partner, get any reward that has been promised (for example, if you make a purchase with a partner, we will share limited information about you to make sure you get the right award or cashback and/or the partner gets a promised payment).

We'll only share your personal data in this way if you've made a qualifying purchase, asked for the relevant service, or if it's provided as part of our membership plans.

From time to time, we may work with other partners to offer you co-branded services or promotional offers, and we'll share some of your personal data with those partners. We will always make sure you understand how we and our partners process your personal data for these purposes.

We'll only provide you with tailored offers from third party brands in a Revolut app where you've specifically asked us to. You can read more about this in our Tailored Ads Privacy Notice.

Credit reporting agencies

As set out in the Do you run credit checks on me? section above, if you apply for a credit product, we'll share your personal data with credit reference agencies to check whether you are likely to make repayments when due.

Other financial institutions and Revolut customers

We may share your personal data with other financial institutions, or Revolut customers, if you ask us to.

We may also share your personal data with other financial institutions, or Revolut customers, where you do not ask us to.

Joint account holders

If you have a joint account with us, we will share account and transaction information between joint account holders. For example, your co-account holder will see any transactions you make from your joint account.

Other third parties

We may share your personal data with other third parties where necessary to facilitate you receiving payments to your Revolut account.

For legal reasons

We also share your personal data with other financial institutions, financial services companies, insurance providers, government authorities, law enforcement authorities, tax authorities, companies and fraud prevention agencies to check your identity, investigate, or protect against suspected fraud, keep to tax laws, anti-money laundering laws, or any other laws and confirm that you're eligible to use our products and services.

If fraud is detected, you could be refused certain services by Revolut or other companies.

We may also need to share your personal data with other third party organizations or authorities:

- if we have to do so under any law or regulation
- if we sell our business or credit portfolio
- in connection with criminal or fraud investigations
- to enforce our rights (and those of customers or others)
- in connection with legal claims.

Social media and advertising companies

When we use social media for marketing purposes, your personal data (limited to only your name, email address and app events) may be shared with the social media platforms so that they can check if you also hold an account with them. If you do, we may ask the social media provider to:

- help us to understand and measure the effectiveness of our online advertising
- use your personal data to send our adverts to you, because we think that you might be interested in a new Revolut product or service
- not send you our adverts, because the marketing relates to a service that you already use
- send our adverts to people who have a similar profile to you (for example, if one of our services is particularly useful to people with similar interests to the ones on your social media profile, we may ask our advertising partner or social media partner to send our adverts for that service to those people)

An example of how we may use social media for marketing purposes is through Facebook's 'Custom Audience' tool. Read more about these terms.

We may share your personal data with our advertising partners in the ways described above, but the personal data is hashed before we send it, and the advertising partner we share it with is only allowed to use that hashed personal data in the ways described above.

Our legal basis is:

- legitimate interests (to ensure Revolut's advertising is as effective as possible)

You can contact us at any time by emailing dpo@revolut.com, if you don't want us to share your personal data for advertising purposes. You can also use the privacy settings in the Revolut app to opt out from having your personal data shared in this way.

Remember you can also manage your marketing preferences directly with any social media provider that you have an account with.

Where you ask us to share your personal data

Where you direct us to share your personal data with a third party, we may do so. For example, you may authorize third parties to act on your behalf (such as a lawyer, accountant or family member or guardian under a power of attorney). We may need to ask for proof that a third party has been validly authorized to act on your behalf.

CONSUMER PRIVACY NOTICE

The Consumer Privacy Notice details our privacy and security practices regarding our relationship with you and provides instructions on how to limit the sharing of non-public personal information.

12. Will my personal data go outside the United States?

We may transfer your personal information outside the US to provide our services. We may store your personal information outside of the United States or use affiliates or service providers located outside of the United States to offer you our products and services.

For example, if you ask to make an international payment, we will send funds to banks overseas. We might also send your information overseas to keep to global legal and regulatory requirements, and to provide ongoing support services.

We may share your personal information with credit reporting agencies and fraud-prevention agencies outside the US.

We will take all reasonable steps to make sure that your personal information is handled securely and in line with this privacy policy and data protection laws.

If you would like more information, please contact us through the Revolut app or by sending an email to dpo@revolut.com.

13. How do you protect my personal data?

We recognise the importance of protecting and managing your personal data. Any personal data we process will be treated with the utmost care and security. This section sets out some of the security measures we have in place.

We use a variety of organizational and technical measures to:

- maintain the confidentiality, availability and integrity of your personal data
- make sure your personal data is not improperly used or disclosed

We have detailed information security and data protection policies which our employees are required to follow when they handle your personal data. Our employees receive data protection and information security training. Personal data is stored on secure computer systems with access management controls in place to limit physical, system and information access to only authorized employees.

Revolut has strict policies in place that control how we share your personal data with other companies. Before sharing personal data with any company, we thoroughly:

- vet the company in advance

assess the security controls the company has in place to protect your personal data

While we take all reasonable steps to ensure that your personal data will be kept secure from unauthorized access, we cannot guarantee it will be secure during transmission by you to our app, our website or other services we may provide. We use HTTPS (HTTP Secure), where the communication protocol is encrypted through Transport Layer Security for secure communication over networks, for all our app, web and payment-processing services.

You are responsible for keeping your Revolut account secure by keeping your passwords, PINs, and one-time passcodes private. Do not share this information with anyone, as it may allow them access to your Revolut account and personal data. Remember, Revolut will never ask you for these details through phone calls, emails, or texts.

When you use our public services, which includes our social network accounts and the Revolut Community forum, do not share any personal data that you don't want to be seen, collected or used by other customers, as this personal data will become publicly available.

14. How long will you keep my personal data for?

We will keep your personal data:

- for as long as necessary to achieve the original purpose we collected it for
- in line with relevant laws

We are required to keep certain personal data for specified time periods by KYC, and anti-money laundering laws. Revolut has detailed policies and procedures in place to ensure we comply with these requirements.

We may keep your personal data for a longer time period because of a potential or ongoing court claim, or for another legal reason.

15. How will you keep me updated about how you use my personal data?

If we change the way we use your personal data, we'll update this policy and, if appropriate, let you know by email, through the relevant Revolut app or through our website.

16. Do you use cookies?

We use cookies to analyse how you use our website. Please read our Cookies Policy for more information about cookies.

We also use pixels or web beacons in the direct marketing emails that we send to you. These pixels track whether our email was delivered and opened, and whether links within the email were clicked. They also allow us to collect information such as your IP address, browser, email client type and other similar details. We use this information to measure the performance of our email campaigns, and for analytics. You can control whether you receive direct marketing emails through the privacy settings in the Revolut app.

17. Children's privacy

About Revolut <18

Revolut <18 is a sub-account of your Revolut personal account that is designed for children and teenagers aged between 6 and 17. Revolut <18 is a great way for your child(ren) to pay for things and learn how to use money. We have a separate Revolut <18 Privacy Notice that explains how we process Revolut <18 customers' personal data. The Revolut <18 Privacy Notice is specifically designed to be understood by children and teenagers.

How do we protect the privacy of children's data?

In order to protect the privacy of data for both the parent(s) and child(ren), we adopted and followed the guidelines and rules laid down by the Children's Online Privacy Protection Act ('COPPA'). COPPA requires us to notify parents or legal guardians and get their verifiable parental consent before we collect, use, or disclose personal information of children under the age of 13.

We do not knowingly collect "personal information," as defined below under COPPA, directly from users under the age of 13, except as described below. If the primary account holder creates a sub-account for a child under the age of 13, only the primary account holder (i.e., the parent or legal guardian), provides information to us necessary to establish the sub-account for the child. Revolut will not collect, use, or disclose any personal information from the child if the parent does not provide consent.

PERSONAL INFORMATION UNDER COPPA

Personal information means individually identifiable information about an individual collected online, including – (A) a first and last name; (B) a home or other physical address including street name and name of a city or town; (C) an e-mail address; (D) a telephone number; (E) a Social Security number; (F) any other identifier that the Federal Trade Commission determines permits the physical or online contacting of a specific individual; or (G) information concerning the child or the parents of that child that the website collects online from the child and combines with an identifier described in this paragraph.

What information are we collecting from you about your child(ren)?

We may collect the following information:

- the child's name, address and date of birth;

- email address, phone number and details of the device they use (for example, the child's phone number);
- your username, password and other registration information;
- identification documents (for example, the child's passport or driving license number (if applicable)), copies of any documents you have provided for identification purposes, a personal description and photograph of the child, and any other information you provide to prove they are eligible to use our services; and
- records of our discussions if you contact us or we contact you.

What information are we collecting directly from your child(ren) if they are under age 13?

- geolocation and IP address

What information are we collecting directly from your child(ren) if they are age 13+?

If your child is age 13+, we may collect the following information:

- the child's name, address and date of birth;
- email address, phone number and details of the device they use (for example, the child's phone number);
- username and PIN/Passcode;
- synced phone contacts;
- geolocation and IP address; and
- photo (if a profile photo is uploaded)

How do we use the collected information of your child(ren)?

We may use your child(ren)'s data so we can do the following:

- send them a welcome pack and information like tips on how to use their account to save money;
- make sure it is the child using the account;
- make sure we give them important news and other information they need to know about the account;
- provide them with our full set of features, subject to applicable laws and Revolut's age-based restrictions;
- protect their account by making sure they are at the same place as their card is being used;
- reply to the parent, legal guardian, or child when they contact us, or answer any questions they may ask us;
- find out what the child likes and doesn't like about Revolut <18 so we can make it better for them; and
- make sure we don't break the law. To do this, we'll share information with the police or other important people when we need to. They will investigate when something has gone wrong and make sure we're doing everything right to protect them.

Are there any exceptions to collecting information from my child(ren) without verifiable parental consent?

There are some limited exceptions that allow us to collect information without verifiable parental consent, such as:

- collecting a child's contact information solely to directly respond to the child's request on a one-time basis. We will not use that information to re-contact the child for any other purpose;
- collecting a child's contact information and the contact information of their parent or legal guardian to directly respond more than once to a specific request from the child. We will not use the child's personal information to re-contact the child for any other purpose;
- to protect the security and integrity of our app;
- to respond to judicial process or provide information to law enforcement;
- when providing support for the internal operations of our app which include: maintaining and analyzing the functioning of our app; performing network communications; authenticating users; personalizing content on the app; serving contextual advertising or capping the frequency of advertising; protecting the security or integrity of the user;
- to ensure legal and regulatory compliance.

How do I exercise my right to review the information provided by my child(ren)?

Upon written request, COPPA requires us to provide you with a description of the specific types of personal information collected from your child(ren) such as name, address, telephone number, email address, hobbies, and extracurricular activities. To make sure you (i.e., the parent or legal guardian) are actually making this request, we may ask for additional information before disclosing the personal information collected from your child(ren).

You also have the right to stop us from future use or future collection of personal information from your child(ren). You may ask us to delete the child's personal information. See section on How long we will keep your child(ren)'s personal information.

To exercise these rights, please email us at dpo-junior@revolut.com.

How long will we keep your child(ren)'s personal information?

We need to keep your child(ren)'s data while their Revolut <18 account is active.

We may need to keep your data for longer if the law says we must. So even if you ask us to destroy your data, we may not be able to do that right away.

If you close your account, we'll keep your data for up to six years. We may need to keep it even longer, for example, if it is needed for regulatory or legal reasons.

What to do if you have any questions or want to know more?

Get in touch! If you have any questions about your child(ren)’s data, email us at dpo-junior@revolut.com or contact us through our in-app chat feature. Additionally, our phone number is 844-744-3512 and our mailing address is 107 Greenwich St., 20th Floor, New York, New York 10006.

18. Notice to California Residents

The California Consumer Privacy Act, as amended by the California Privacy Rights Act of 2020 (“CCPA”) requires that we provide you with a privacy policy of our online and offline information practices and your rights under this law regarding your personal information. This section of the privacy policy is only applicable to California residents. If you are not a California resident, this section does not apply to you.

Notice of Collection of Personal Information

We currently collect, share, disclose, and use your personal information and in the 12 months prior to the last updated date of this Privacy Policy, have collected, shared, disclosed, and used the following categories of personal information:

- Identifiers (name, postal address, online identifier, Internet Protocol address, email address, account name, social security number, driver’s license number, passport number)
- Unique personal identifiers (device identifiers, cookies, beacons, pixel tags, mobile ad identifiers, or other similar technology)
- Telephone Number
- Signature
- Bank Account Number
- Credit Card Number or Debit Account Number
- Other financial information, including personal or business credit history, payment behavior, tax identification number
- Biometric data, such as facial recognition for FaceID logins

Sometimes, we help you to provide services to customers. For example, we provide payment processing services to you if you use our Revolut Pro product. Where this happens, you're responsible for deciding if we collect your customers' personal data and how we should process it on your behalf.

Do You Share My Personal Information With Anyone Else?

We do not sell and have not sold in the preceding 12 months, personal information to third parties.

Revolut group companies

We share your personal data within the Revolut group of companies to:

- provide you with the best service
- send you information about Revolut products and services we think you'll be interested in hearing about.
- protect you, other customers and our systems from fraud or harmful behaviour
- facilitate you quickly signing up to use other Revolut products or services
- improve existing, or develop new, products or services

Other Revolut customers

We'll ask you to let us sync your mobile phone contacts. This will help you to identify which of your trusted mobile phone contacts are Revolut customers. Your 'trusted contacts' will also be able to see if you're a Revolut customer through our in-app discoverability settings.

In-app discoverability gives you access to Revolut features like requesting money from your friends, splitting bills, group pockets, paying other Revolut customers or chatting to your 'trusted contacts'.

We use technological safeguards to ensure a 'trusted contact' is somebody you already know and who knows you (for example, you have each other saved in each other's mobile phone contacts lists or have already received or given money through a peer-to-peer payment with them).

Both you and your trusted contact must have synced your mobile phone contacts lists with Revolut to be viewable to each other in the relevant Revolut app.

If you have synced your mobile phone contacts, we only show basic details about you in the relevant Revolut app to your trusted contacts who are also Revolut customers (for example, your name (as saved in your friend's contacts list), mobile phone number, Revtag, Revolut membership plan, and Revolut profile photo (if you have one)).

You can, of course, choose not to sync your contacts list with Revolut. This means that you won't be able to identify which of your mobile phone contacts are Revolut customers.

You can also change your discoverability preferences through the privacy settings in the relevant Revolut app.

Other Revolut customers will be able to search for you through the relevant Revolut app using your Revtag. When they input your Revtag, they will be able to see your name and profile photo (if you have one). You can turn off being discoverable by your Revtag through the privacy settings in the relevant Revolut app.

People or companies that you transfer money to

Where you make a payment from your Revolut account, we'll provide the recipient with your details alongside your payment (for example, your name and IBAN). This is because, like all payment institutions, we're required by law to include certain information with payments.

People or companies that transfer money to you

When you receive a payment to your Revolut account, we'll provide the payer with your details. This is necessary to confirm that the payment has been made to the correct account.

Suppliers

The table below explains which suppliers we normally share your personal data with:

Type of supplier	Why we share your personal data
Suppliers who provide us with IT, artificial intelligence, payment and delivery services	To help us provide our services to you
Our banking and financial services partners and payments networks, including Visa and Mastercard	To help us provide our services to you. This includes banking and lending partners, banking intermediaries and international payment service providers
Identity verification and KYC service providers	To help us verify your identity so we can provide services to you
Card manufacturing, personalisation and delivery companies	To create and deliver your personalised Revolut card
Analytics providers and search information providers	To help us improve our website or apps
Customer-service providers, survey providers and developers	To help us to provide our services to you
Communications services providers	To help us send you emails, push notifications and text messages

Debt collection agencies	To manage and recover debts that you owe or may end up owing (including if you have a Revolut credit product)
--------------------------	---

Partners who help to provide our services

We may share your personal data with our partners to provide certain services you've asked us for, as well as to make sure you, or our partner, get any reward that has been promised (for example, if you make a purchase with a partner, we will share limited information about you to make sure you get the right award or cashback and/or the partner gets a promised payment).

We'll only share your personal data in this way if you've made a qualifying purchase, asked for the relevant service, or if it's provided as part of our membership plans.

From time to time, we may work with other partners to offer you co-branded services or promotional offers, and we'll share some of your personal data with those partners. We will always make sure you understand how we and our partners process your personal data for these purposes.

We'll only provide you with tailored offers from third party brands in a Revolut app where you've specifically asked us to. You can read more about this in our Tailored Ads Privacy Notice.

Credit reporting agencies

As set out in the Do you run credit checks on me? section above, if you apply for a credit product, we'll share your personal data with credit reference agencies to check whether you are likely to make repayments when due.

Other financial institutions and Revolut customers

We may share your personal data with other financial institutions, or Revolut customers, if you ask us to.

We may also share your personal data with other financial institutions, or Revolut customers, where you do not ask us to.

Joint account holders

If you have a joint account with us, we will share account and transaction information between joint account holders. For example, your co-account holder will see any transactions you make from your joint account.

Other third parties

We may share your personal data with other third parties where necessary to facilitate you receiving payments to your Revolut account.

For legal reasons

We also share your personal data with other financial institutions, financial services companies, insurance providers, government authorities, law enforcement authorities, tax authorities, companies, and fraud prevention agencies to check your identity, investigate, or protect against suspected fraud, keep to tax laws, anti-money laundering laws, or any other laws and confirm that you're eligible to use our products and services.

If fraud is detected, you could be refused certain services by Revolut or other companies.

We may also need to share your personal data with other third party organizations or authorities:

- if we have to do so under any law or regulation
- if we sell our business or credit portfolio
- in connection with criminal or fraud investigations
- to enforce our rights (and those of customers or others)
- in connection with legal claims.

Social media and advertising companies

When we use social media for marketing purposes, your personal data (limited to only your name, email address, and app events) may be shared with the social media platforms so that they can check if you also hold an account with them. If you do, we may ask the social media provider to:

- help us to understand and measure the effectiveness of our online advertising

- use your personal data to send our adverts to you, because we think that you might be interested in a new Revolut product or service
- not send you our adverts, because the marketing relates to a service that you already use
- send our adverts to people who have a similar profile to you (for example, if one of our services is particularly useful to people with similar interests to the ones on your social media profile, we may ask our advertising partner or social media partner to send our adverts for that service to those people)

An example of how we may use social media for marketing purposes is through Facebook's 'Custom Audience' tool. Read more about these terms.

We may share your personal data with our advertising partners in the ways described above, but the personal data is hashed before we send it, and the advertising partner we share it with is only allowed to use that hashed personal data in the ways described above.

Our legal basis is:

- legitimate interests (to ensure Revolut's advertising is as effective as possible)

You can contact us at any time by emailing dpo@revolut.com, if you don't want us to share your personal data for advertising purposes. You can also use the privacy settings in the relevant Revolut app to opt out from having your personal data shared in this way.

Remember you can also manage your marketing preferences directly with any social media provider that you have an account with.

Where you ask us to share your personal data

Where you direct us to share your personal data with a third party, we may do so. For example, you may authorize third parties to act on your behalf (such as a lawyer, accountant, or family member or guardian under a power of attorney). We may need to ask for proof that a third party has been validly authorized to act on your behalf.

We knowingly share the personal information of consumers under 16 years old. Revolut <18 is our account for children and teenagers aged between 6 and 17. We have a separate Data Privacy Statement for Revolut <18 that explains how we process Revolut <18 customers' personal data. The Data Privacy Statement is specifically designed to be understood by children and teenagers.

How Long Will You Keep My Personal Data For?

We will keep your personal data:

- for as long as necessary to achieve the original purpose we collected it for
- in line with relevant laws

We're required to keep certain personal data for specified time periods by KYC, and anti-money laundering laws. Revolut has detailed policies and procedures in place to ensure we comply with these requirements.

We may keep your personal data for a longer time period because of a potential or ongoing court claim, or for another legal reason.

What Are My Rights?

If you are a California resident, you have the following rights to your personal information:

- The right to know what personal information we have collected about you, the categories of personal information we have collected, the categories of sources that the personal information has been collected from, our business or commercial purposes for collecting that personal information, whether we sell or share your personal information (if applicable), the categories of third parties we disclose your personal information to, and the specific pieces of personal information the business has collected about you.
- The right to delete personal information that we collected from you, subject to certain regulatory and legal obligations.
- The right to correct inaccurate personal information that we have collected from you.
- If we sell or share your personal information, the right to opt out of the sale or sharing of your personal information.
- If we use or disclose your sensitive personal information for purposes other than what is allowed by the CCPA, the right to limit our use or disclosure of your sensitive personal information.
- The right to not receive discriminatory treatment by us for exercising your rights under the CCPA.

How to Exercise my Rights to Know, Delete, and/or Correct?

To exercise any of your rights set out in the previous section, you can contact us through the Revolut webpage or send us an email at dpo@revolut.com.

For security reasons, we can't deal with your request if we're not sure of your identity, so we may ask you for proof of ID. If we cannot verify your identity through your ID, you may be requested to contact us with further instructions to assist us in responding to your request.

If a third party exercises one of these rights on your behalf, we may need to ask for proof that they've been authorized to act on your behalf.

When you exercise one of your rights, or update your privacy settings in the relevant Revolut app, it may take us up to one month to respond or implement your changes.

Revolut will usually not charge you a fee when you exercise your rights. However, we're allowed by law to charge a reasonable fee or refuse to act on your request if it is manifestly unfounded or excessive.

Revolut will not discriminate against you in any way because you exercise any rights conferred by this Privacy Policy.

If you are unhappy with how we have handled your personal information you can file a formal complaint by sending us an email to complaints.us@revolut.com.

Right to Opt Out Of Sale or Sharing of Personal Information

If you are a California resident, California law provides you with the right to opt out of the sharing of your personal information. You may submit a request to opt out of sale or sharing of your personal information by clicking on our website (www.revolut.com/en-US/) footer link "Do Not Sell or Share My Personal Information" or contacting us at dpo@revolut.com.

Right to Limit the Use of My Sensitive Personal Information

If you are a California resident, California law provides you with the right to limit the use of your sensitive personal information. You may submit a request to limit the use of your sensitive personal information by clicking on our website (www.revolut.com/en-US/) footer link "Limit the Use of My Sensitive Personal Information" or contacting us at dpo@revolut.com.

19. Accessibility

We are committed to ensuring this Privacy Policy is accessible to individuals with disabilities. If you wish to access this Privacy Policy in an alternative method, please contact us at dpo@revolut.com.
